ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

FINAL

Vol. 83. No. 55. (83rd Year) ST. LOUIS, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1961—18 PAGES PRICE 5 CENTS

WAY IS CLEARED FOR PASSAGE OF CITY FOOD PLAN BILL ON MONDAY

Aldermen Give Second Reading to Measure — Rules Suspension Will Allow Quick Vote.

A bill to authorize St. Louis to establish a surplus food distribution program received today its second reading before the Board of Aldermen.

The ways and means committee met immediately after the board session and voted to report the bill Monday for final approval by the aldermen. Rules of the chamber will be suspended so it can be enacted at that time.

Comptroller John H. Poelker told the aldermanic committee that he will have definite word Monday on whether the city can use warehouse facilities at the old small arms ammunition plant on Goodfellow boulevard.

Alternative Building.

If the federally-owned facilities are not available, he said, the city may use an alternate building belonging to Anheuser-Busch, Inc., at Ninth and Pestalozzi streets. This unused building in on a railroad siding and has dock space.

The authorization bill was introduced yesterday by Alderman Joseph P. Roddy (Dem.), Seventeenth ward. It would appropriate $90,000 from general revenue funds to pay for the program. The Mayor and Comptroller would be authorized to accept an amount equal to 50 per cent of the operating cost from the state.

Legislation is pending before the General Assembly to permit the state to share the cost of food distribution with the counties.

Prompt and vigorous action to put the surplus food distribution program into effect was requested yesterday by the joint labor-management committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the A.F.L.-C.I.O. St. Louis Labor Council.

"There are some among the ranks of the unemployed whose current plight is extreme," said Kenton R. Cravens and Joseph P. Clark, co-chairmen of the committee. "The surplus food program is certainly one humane way to give aid to those seriously affected by the economic recession."

Speedy Action Urged.

Aldermen and legislators were urged to take speedy action on the pending legislation.

Meanwhile the St. Louis office of the State Division of Employment Security reported yesterday that initial claims for unemployment insurance benefits in the city and St. Louis county for the week ended yesterday totaled 3541, or 402 fewer than last week's 3943. The new claims were 1382 higher than in the comparable week last year and 332 below the similar week of 1958.

This week's new claims were the lowest since the start of this year, Charles G. DeLargy, manager of the St. Louis office, said. He attributed the slackening to better weather conditions and noted that the decline would have been greater but for workers furloughed as a result of the now-settled airlines strike.

DeLargy said continued claims for the week were 24,669, down 1140 from last week but 11,083 higher than the comparable week a year ago. Compared with the similar week of 1958, the continued claims this week were 1351 higher.

Bank Head Who Hanged Self Said He Stole to Make Civic Gifts

President of Knoxville (Ia.) Institution Leaves Note About $500,000 Shortage.

KNOXVILLE, Ia., Feb. 25 (AP)—Eldon L. Job, president of the Community National Bank & Trust Co. who hanged himself yesterday, leaving a shortage of more than $500,000, left a note saying he took the money through forged notes to cover bad investments and to make civic donations.

Job, 59 years old, was one of the leading citizens in this town of 7817 population, 30 miles southeast of Des Moines. Private funeral services were conducted today.

Job not only headed Community National, which he formed through a merger in 1933, but held a majority stock interest in Knoxville's other bank, Iowa State Savings.

Knoxville residents found it hard to believe that Job was an embezzler. His family was one of the best known in town. It included his wife, Bernice, and his two sons, Ned, assistant cashier of Community National, and Louis, vice president of the other bank. A daughter, Judith, is a student at Drake University.

A note left by Job, in which he was said to have accounted for every penny of the shortage, was made public by E. W. Morgan of Des Moines, a national bank examiner.

He said he could not disclose the amount of the shortage at this time, but Richard Darnell, assistant cashier of the bank,

HOUSE MEMBERS TRY TO MINIMIZE FUSS ON AIDS' PAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (UPI)—Leaders of a House move to give more pay to their employes have found a scheme to put it across with minimum fuss.

Under the plan worked out yesterday, neither the Senate nor the President would have anything to say about it. The House would make the final decision.

The $6,000,000-a-year payroll increase, allowing each member a ninth or tenth clerk plus extra money for some of those already hired, was approved Thursday by the Committee on House Administration.

Members discovered afterward, however, that they had done it the hard way. They had written the increases into a House bill requiring passage by the House, Senate and the President.

To remedy this, they had the bill's sponsor, Representative Robert A. Everett (Dem.), Tennessee, introduce a revised version which requires approval only by the House. Even so, a House fight was assured thought indications were it would pass.

FRENCH EMBASSY ON FIRE, ENVOY SAVES PAINTINGS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The French ambassador to the United States, wearing evening clothes, removed valuable paintings from his blazing embassy last night as his wife took time to change into street clothes.

The fire started in an elevator shaft, swept through the attic and caused serious damage to the three-story structure. No one was hurt and there was no immediate estimate of damage.

Ambassador Herve Alphand and his wife were at a dinner at the Peruvian embassy when the fire broke out. They rushed to their embassy and dashed into the burning building. Alphand grabbed several valuable paintings as his wife went to her quarters on the second floor to change to a street ensemble.

"Tell the madame to be quick," her husband shouted above the confusion, "before her floor falls down."

The Alphands escaped unscathed. The paintings at the embassy, most of them from Versailles, were not damaged. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

8000 Tokyo Doctors Strike.

TOKYO, Feb. 25 (UPI)—About 8000 of Tokyo's 12,000 doctors joined in a half-day strike today to press demands for a 30 per cent increase in their fees under the government health insurance system. About 100,000 doctors and dentists across the nation went on strike last Sunday for higher fees, but the government would grant only a 10 per cent increase.

THREE ARRESTED IN POLICE CHASE AFTER HOLDUP

$912 Taken in Robbery of Grocery — Five Shots Fired in Pursuit.

Three St. Louis men who were arrested in Madison county yesterday after a police chase in which five shots were fired at them were identified as having participated in a holdup about two hours earlier at the market of William Barth, 3301 North Fourteenth street.

The suspects, who waived extradition and were returned to St. Louis, were identified by police as: Leon Koester, 23 years old, living in the 1400 block of Kealty lane; Gerald C. Daggett, 21, 3200 block of Portis avenue, who had been at liberty on bond on a burglary charge, and George Hooper, 21, 2700 block of South Tenth street, on probation from sentences for robbery and operating an automobile without consent of owner.

Warrants charging the three men with armed robbery were issued today by the circuit attorney. The evidence will be presented to the grand jury.

Barth and Arthur Sona, a clerk, were held up at 3:20 p.m. by two men posing as customers. One man produced a revolver and demanded the contents of two cash registers. Barth said he placed $912 in a shopping bag in which the men had collected groceries and the pair fled in an automobile with a third man.

Witnesses furnished police with part of the license number, and said the car sped north in Fourteenth street. A police cruiser was sent to McKinley Bridge, where officers learned that three men in a car resembling the one sought had crossed to the East Side a few minutes previously.

Madison Police Sgt. Emmett Pazia received a radio description of the automobile and the men, and saw the car at Madison avenue and Fourteenth street. Sgt. Pazia, driving alone, fired five shots in an ensuing chase through Madison and Granite City and a return to Madison, where he lost sight of the fugitives in traffic.

Madison police, led by Sgt. Pazia, and Madison county deputies later searched an area on the outskirts of Madison, and found the car parked near a tavern in the 2000 block of Hildebrand avenue, in Madison county. The three men sought were found in the tavern. A total of $1036 was recovered from the

M'CLOY REJECTS SOVIET PLAN TO DISARM WITHOUT POLITICAL PACTS

Top U.S. Adviser Says 4-Year Proposal Can't Be Accepted Apart From Assurances of Peace.

ANDOVER, Mass., Feb. 25 (AP)—President Kennedy's top disarmament adviser declared today that the Soviet proposal for "general and complete disarmament in four years" cannot be accepted by the United States apart from broad political agreements to assure a peaceful world.

In his first public speech after taking on the disarmament assignment, John J. McCloy said "we must persevere" in the search for arms control accords, in spite of Soviet activities in such places as Laos, The Congo and Cuba.

McCloy paid tribute to past workers in the disarmament field, Democrats and Republicans alike, and said:

"In my judgment, the delays and frustrations that have plagued the negotiations thus far have been due more to the great difficulties of the problem than to any inadequacies of plans or planners."

"We must get on," McCloy declared, "with the task of, at least, attempting to diminish the ever-increasing menace of a nuclear disaster wherein . . . the only issue will be whether there are sufficient survivors to bury the dead.

"If we cannot trust, we are compelled to erect inspections systems and control procedures, which, by their very extent and character, may introduce irritations and instability in any agreement we reach. Yet, we must persevere, attempting to find facets of common interest which may lead the way to broader steps."

McCloy declared that "we cannot accept the single slogan of general and complete disarmament in four years without further assurances that the world will not then be in a welter of subversive agitation, suspicion and anarchy . . .

"What we, and all those of goodwill, must understand is that what the world seeks is a peaceful society in which agreed and reliable procedures are set up for the just settlement of disputes with the concomitant of general and complete disarmament, which such a condition permits."

McCloy spoke at the dedication of Stimson house at Phillips Andover Academy, named in honor of Henry L. Stimson, who served a long series of Presidents in high official positions, including secretary of state and secretary of war.

GREYHOUND USED FOR STUDY TURNS OUT TO BE WINNER

LONDON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Seven members of Parliament who are making a study of dog racing in Britain have bought a greyhound and he is proving to be a champion.

The M.P.s, five Conservatives and two Laborites, dropped political differences to recommend that the government spend more money fostering greyhound racing.

The sport is followed by millions of betting Britons, but Conservative Godfrey Lagden said: "We feel that greyhound racing is taxed too heavily."

The government takes a percentage cut of bets made through the tote machines at the track and also levies an entertainment tax on admissions.

The M.P.s paid about $400 for their greyhound and named it Back-Bencher (the term refers to members who sit in the back of the house and steadfastly support the party leaders who sit up front).

Back-Bencher won its first six races.

New Oldest Human Being; Bones Date Back Past 600,000 Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The bones of a man and child who lived more than 600,000 years ago have been found in East Africa, a British anthropologist said yesterday. Dr. L. B. S. Leakey said they were the oldest human bones ever uncovered.

Leakey, curator of the Coryndon museum in Nairobi, Kenya, said at a press conference that the bones were found last year in the Olduvai Gorge region of Tanganyika by his son Jonathan, 19 years old.

The discovery means that the 600,000-year old "nutcracker man" (zinjanthropus), whose bones Leaky discovered in 1959, is no longer the oldest human being on record. Those bones were found in the same area.

Leakey said skull fracture lines and other evidence indicated the child had been murdered. The professor said that the exploration, partly financed by the National Geographic Society, also discovered the skull of "Chellean man," who came along much later than "nutcracker man," but who represented "the first prehistoric culture ever accepted by science."

HAWAIIAN VOLCANO ERUPTS EIGHT HOURS; NO DAMAGE

Lava Spewed as High as 100 Feet at Times—Display Ends Abruptly.

HONOLULU, Feb. 25 (AP)—Halemaumau fire pit in Kilauea volcano erupted yesterday, spewing a chain of lava fountains up to 100 feet high for eight hours. The display ended as abruptly as it began.

No one was hurt and no damage was reported in the eruption on southern-most Hawaii island.

POLITICAL AIDS AND TECHNICIANS ARE SAID TO BE IN STANLEYVILLE

More Expected Later — Additional Housing Sought — Reds Had Been Expelled Last September.

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS
The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Despite President Kennedy's warnings to keep hands off The Congo, the Russians are back in the troubled country from which they were so unceremoniously expelled last September.

So far, it is learned, only a trickle of "technicians," political advisers, diplomats and "journalists" from Russia and eastern Europe have reached Stanleyville, the capital of Oriental province, which is under rule of Communist-oriented Antoine Gizenga.

According to eyewitness reports received by a number of African and western embassies in Washington, Russian and eastern European personnel have been arriving in Stanleyville in small numbers for nearly two weeks.

Additional arrivals from Russia and eastern Europe are expected, these reports say, because the Communist officials in Stanleyville have been noticed searching for additional housing.

It is understood that the Russians reached Oriental province by airplane. It is not know whether they brought with them any of the military supplies with which they started to flood The Congo last summer before their expulsion by President Kasavubu, head of the Leopoldville regime, and his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu. But it is pointed out that if the Russians were able to reach Stanleyville by air, there is no reason why in due course, shipments of supplies should not find their way by the same route.

KHRUSHCHEV ASKS HELP FOR GIZENGA

MOSCOW, Feb. 25 (UPI)—Premier Khrushchev, in letters to chiefs of state on four continents, has appealed for aid to the Stanleyville regime of Antoine Gizenga, political heir of the late Patrice Lumumba, as the "true government of The Congo."

The letters showed the Russians are sticking to their declared policy on The Congo despite the defeat of their resolution in the United Nations Security Council calling for support of the Gizenga government.

Khrushchev called for the creation of a commission representing the African states which sent troops to the U.N. Congo force to carry out "measures designed to deliver The Congo from colonialist aggression and to restore the country's independence."

Text Released.

The foreign ministry today released the text of a letter Khrushchev sent Wednesday to Premier Nehru of India.

Similar letters, the ministry said, were sent on the same date to chiefs of state or governments in other countries in Asia, Africa, Latin America and Europe.

The foreign ministry did not say which countries were involved.

Khrushchev said that having weighed all the facts involved, the Soviet government "has come to the conclusion that the interests of The Congo's independence as well as those of the United Nations require the immediate termination of the so-called Congo operation and the withdrawal of all foreign troops."

Arguments against the withdrawal of the U.N. troops, he said, were "generated by the unwillingness of the colonialists to leave The Congo and let its people be masters in their own home."

He suggested the African commission which he proposed might supervise, in conjunction with the Gizenga government, "measures to oust the aggressors and create normal conditions for the work of the government and parliament of The Congo."

The letter to Nehru said the

RUSK CONFERS WITH STEVENSON ON CONGO ACTION

U.N. Delegate Expresses 'Revulsion, Shock' Over Reports of Revenge Killings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, United States ambassador to the United Nations, conferred today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the Congo situation.

In New York yesterday, Stevenson expressed "revulsion and shock" over reports of 11 more political assassinations in The Congo and said he would seek new Security Council action condemning political revenge killings.

The killings this time were reported to be at the hands of the Lumumbist regime of Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville, in revenge for the earlier assassination of leftist leader Patrice Lumumba and some of his lieutenants.

The Soviet Union has blamed U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for the killing of Lumumba and has called for his resignation. The United States has declared full support for Hammarskjold and for the efforts of U.N. forces to restore peace in The Congo.

Hammarskjold now has the task of implementing a Congo peace plan approved by the Security Council on Tuesday.

Stevenson recalled that Soviet vetoes killed his attempts in the council to broaden the resolution to condemn assassinations in Stanleyville as well as elsewhere in The Congo.

Stevenson said he planned to confer with delegates from the United Arab Republic, Ceylon and Liberia—original sponsors of the resolution—on "whether new steps should be taken now to condemn all political violence as I suggested last week."

He issued the statement after conferring for about an hour with Hammarskjold.

Stevenson said Hammarskjold was apparently having little luck thus far in efforts to persuade African nations to put new troops into The Congo to take the place of those withdrawn.

He was reported anxious to build up the force to even more than the 20,000-goal originally set in order to carry out the council's plan authorizing force if necessary to stop civil war.

BELGIUM ENDS RELATIONS WITH U.A.R. OVER RIOTING

BRUSSELS, Feb. 25 (AP)—Belgium broke off diplomatic relations with the United Arab Republic today because of mob attacks on the Belgian embassy in Cairo last week.

Jean van den Bossche, foreign minister secretary-general, said the U.A.R. had rejected all Belgian protests against the attacks by rioters seeking vengeance for the killing of Congolese ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Lumumbists Seize Kasai Capital, Ultimatum to U.N. to Oust Them

KENNEDY, MENZIES BACK PEACE MOVE BY KING OF LAOS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (UPI)—President Kennedy and Australian Prime Minister Menzies issued a statement yesterday welcoming efforts by the King of Laos to isolate his country from the cold war.

Their statement followed a two-hour White House conference.

Mr. Kennedy and Menzies said they hoped King Savang Vatthana's plan for a three-nation commission to restore peace and end foreign intervention in Laos will "bear fruit." It has been opposed by Russia and one of the suggested members of the commission, Cambodia.

Menzies told reporters the situation regarding Communist China is highly uncertain. For one thing, he said, "We don't know whether the Soviet Union and Communist China play in the same orchestra."

In their joint statement, the two leaders also deplored efforts by the Soviet Union to "twist the tragic events in The Congo into an attack on the United Nations itself."

TEACHERS CAN'T FIND WAY TO MAKE PHYSICS EASIER

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (AP)—Students who have a tough time absorbing high school physics received some bad news yesterday—instructors have not yet devised a way to make such information more digestible.

J. Stanley Marshall of Florida State University told of an experiment in which passages from a physics textbook were rewritten in the hope the pupils could get a quicker grasp of the subject.

On the readability scale, the original passages should have been understood easily by thirteenth graders. The rewritten passages should have been understood by ninth graders.

Marshall told the National Association for Research in Science Writing that the students who read the simplified passages scored no better on comprehension than those who read the originals.

Congo Central Government Gives World Body Six Hours to Take Action.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, Feb. 25 (AP)—Pro-Lumumba troops took over Luluabourg, capital of Kasai province, today and the Congolese central government gave the United Nations six hours to clear them out.

Luluabourg apparently was occupied without resistance. A force of about 300 Lumumbist troops moved into the town after a journey of 800 miles from Oriental province.

A U.N. spokesman said the intruders apparently "merged" with the garrison, supposedly loyal to Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, commander of the Leopoldville government's army.

Congolese Vice Premier Jean Bolikango delivered an ultimatum to United Nations headquarters at 6 a.m. saying that if the United Nations troops did not act against the intruders in six hours, the Congolese forces would take measures of their own.

By taking over Luluabourg, Antoine Gizenga's rebel regime extended its control to three of The Congo's six provincial capitals.

Lumumbist elements have long held two other provincial capitals, Stanleyville in Oriental province and Bukavu in Kivu province.

Luluabourg is in the northern part of Kasai province, 500 miles from Leopoldville. Its people are overwhelming supporters of the late ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba, although the garrison in the town, drawn from widely scattered parts of the country, had been regarded as loyal to Mobutu and President Joseph Kasavubu.

When Kasavubu and Mobutu visited Luluabourg last year they were greeted with hostility by the population but received wild acclaim in the army camp.

A large part of the Mobutu army is assembled in the north of The Congo on the borders of Oriental province. So far Mobutu has not ordered an attack and has concentrated on negotiations for a peaceful solution with Lumumbist commander Gen. Victor Lundula.

Kennedy Seeks Worship Privacy, Won't Reveal Time and Place

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The White House no longer will inform reporters where and when President Kennedy will go to church on Sundays because he "desires to worship in peace."

This was seen as another in a series of efforts to give the presidential family a maximum amount of privacy in its personal life.

For a time after Mr. Kennedy won the Democratic presidential nomination last July, and while he was President-elect, reporters were informed by Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, where and when Mr. Kennedy would go to church. The information was not to be published in advance.

Reporters abided by the rule and yet crowds of about 200 have been at the Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church in Georgetown where Mr. Kennedy usually attended Sunday services. This was also the case at the church he attended in Palm Beach, Fla., when he was President-elect.

The new policy, Salinger said yesterday, was "the desire of the President." As reporters peppered him with questions, he added "I see no reason for further explanation."

HODGES THINKS ECONOMY IS DUE FOR BIG RISE IN ABOUT 60 DAYS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (UPI) —Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges thinks the nation's economy is "in a little trouble at the moment" but will improve greatly in about 60 days.

"You are obviously not one of those promoting a recession," observed Representative Edgar W. Hiestand (Rep.), California, after Hodges gave his views to the House Labor Committee yesterday.

The committee meets again in closed session Monday to continue work on the Kennedy Administration's proposal to increase the minimum wage gradually from $1 to $1.25 an hour.

Two other House committees are also studying Kennedy anti-recession measures. A Banking and Security subcommittee is scheduled to hear Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman testify Monday on a bill to aid chronically depressed areas, and the House Ways and Means Committee is working on a final version of the bill to extend help to needy children whose parents are out of work.

Promises His Help.

Hodges did double committee duty yesterday. He first appeared before the Banking subcommittee and said that despite reports he was unenthusiastic, he would do everything possible to help the program for economically depressed areas.

He said the program must be tightly administered to avoid "boondoggling."

Hodges told the Labor Committee that he thought Mr. Kennedy's bill to boost the minimum wage, which would also extend coverage to 4,300,000 more workers, would have a good long-term effect on the economy.

"I can't see where it would be inflationary at all," he said. He told the Representatives his prediction of an upswing in the economy did not dim his enthusiasm for a minimum wage increase.

'Just Sitting Around.'

Then Griffin asked whether it might result in forcing employers to lay off some of "the unskilled, very young and very aged."

"And very lazy," added the Commerce Secretary.

One of the chief bills in the anti-recession package, to extend unemployment benefits to workers whose compensation has already — or soon will — run out, was being prepared for a House vote next week.

The bill would allow a maximum of 39 weeks of payment to workers. This provision was attacked yesterday by John L. Lewis, the 81-year-old president emeritus of the United Mine Workers Union.

Lewis said workers should get benefits as long as they cannot get a job. He told a mine workers convention that in cutting off payments after a set time, the government was saying in effect: "If you are still alive after the next six months, come back and we'll see what we can do for you."

Move to Halt Gold Drain.

President Kennedy asked Congress yesterday to help halt the overseas drain on United States gold and dollars by cutting from $500 to $100 the amount of duty-free goods that American travelers can bring back from abroad.

He submitted also a companion bill to exempt from United States taxes the interest received by foreign banks from United States government securities they hold on a non-commercial basis. The measure was designed to encourage the banks to buy United States securities rather than gold.

At the same time, the President sent Congress two propeosed bills to carry out plans in his health program for increasing training opportunities for physicians and dentists and to provide more and better medical facilities.

The measures would provide federal scholarships for medical and dental students and would authorize construction grants for teaching and research facilities.

They also would authorize federal grants for construction of nursing homes and expand and improve community facilities and services for the care of the aged and others.

Farm Plan Advanced.

Mr. Kennedy's emergency plan to curb the feed grain surplus appeared to be headed for congressional approval in time for spring planting.

A House Agriculture subcommittee, urged on by administration congressional leaders, approved the bill yesterday with some added safeguards. It would allow growers new and higher price supports if they reduce their acreage at least 20 per cent. Extra payments in the form of grain surpluses would be made for additional acreage cuts amounting to another 20 per cent.

By the Associated Press.

The Senate confirmed a number of Mr. Kennedy's appointments yesterday, including the men he has picked to head three big Government agencies.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, a Nobel prize winner and chancellor of the University of California since 1958, was confirmed as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Kennedy has said he will name Seaborg chairman—an action which does not require Senate approval.

Najeeb E. Halaby, Los Angeles attorney and business man, was confirmed as head of the Federal Aviation agency.

Linder Confirmed.

Harold F. Linder, New York financier-philanthropist, was confirmed to head the export-import bank. The Senate Banking Committee had completed hearings on his nomination only a few hours earlier authorizing him to retain investments Linder said he was reluctant to sell. He said he would furnish the committee a complete accounting of his holdings.

Linder told the committee he was reluctant to divest himself of all of his investments because this would mean a substantial financial sacrifice. He said, however, he would sell all or any of the securities if that was the committee's wish.

Also confirmed were the nominations of three veteran foreign service officers to new posts as ambassadors:

Douglas MacArthur II, who has been ambassador to Japan, as ambassador to Belgium.

Raymond A. Hare, deputy Under Secretary of State for political affairs, to be ambassador to Turkey.

Bernard Gufler, who has been ambasssador to Ceylon, to be ambassador to Finland.

CHELF QUITS DEMOCRATIC JOB; OPPOSES SOME BILLS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP) —Representative Frank Chelf (Dem.), Kentucky, has resigned as an assistant House Democratic whip because he found it difficult to go along with the leadership on some legislation it proposes to support, a Chelf aid said yesterday.

The aid said that one of the issues on which Chelf found himself at odds with the leadership concerned increasing the minimum wage from the present $1 an hour.

The Administration has proposed a three-step program to increase minimum wage to $1.15 an hour this year, $1.20 next year and $1.25 the following year. It proposes also to make 4,300,000 persons not now covered by the law eligible for a minimum wage.

ASKS AFL-CIO TO LET TEAMSTERS RETURN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, told the AFL-CIO Executive Council yesterday that the best way to step up lagging organizing success is to take back the ousted Teamsters Union.

Curran said that if the Teamsters and other unaffiliated unions such as the Mine Workers were merged into the federation, labor could do a more effective job.

Curran said he told a closed door executive council meeting that none of the top-level Teamster leaders has been convicted of crimes in the three years since the Teamsters were expelled from the AFL-CIO on the ground of corrupt leadership.

Curran said that the same could not be said of the federation's own officers. Curran mentioned no names but it was obvious he was referring to Maurice Hutcheson, a council member who was present when Curran spoke. Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Union, is appealing convictions for contempt of Congress and bribery conspiracy, the latter in connection with an Indiana highway scandal.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has said on other occasions that the Teamsters will not be welcomed back into the federation as long as James R. Hoffa is president.

The executive council voted to step up organizing efforts and to revamp internal policies that have let jurisdictional rivalry hamper organizing activity. Meany said the change will give the 100-man AFL-CIO organizing staff more leeway in selecting organizing targets.

Up to now the federation has steered clear of helping organize a plant or firm when two unions asserted rival jurisdiction. This was to avoid helping one union fight another.

WILLIAMS TALK STIRS BRITISH PROTEST MOVE

Two Parliament Members Accuse Kennedy Official of Interference in Africa.

LONDON, Feb. 25 (UPI)—Progovernment members of Parliament demanded today that Prime Minister Macmillan protest to President Kennedy against what they called Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams's interference in the affairs of British Africa.

Statements made by Williams in his African tour touched off a dispute in Parliament and threatened a rift in British-American relations.

Demands that Macmillan take the matter up in Washington were contained in a motion proposed in the House of Commons by Conservatives John Biggs-Davison and Anthony Fell.

Williams antagonized the British with two remarks he made earlier this week in Nairobi, Kenya, and Kampala, Uganda. In Nairobi, Williams advocated "Africa for the Africans," which led Britons to conclude he had in mind only non-white Africans. Williams insisted he meant "Africans of every race."

In Kampala, Williams told a press conference he wanted to see stable, independent governments in Africa to prevent "another kind of tyranny."

Reporters asked if he meant to imply that British rule was tyrannical.

Williams replied: "I withdraw the reference to 'another kind of tyranny.' I do not mean the British are a tyranny."

When Williams arrived in Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika, last night he was asked immediately to comment on reports he had snubbed white guests at a Nairobi reception. He called the reports "balderdash."

In government quarters, it was evident that Macmillan and his top aids were concerned by the Conservative attacks on Williams.

The United States State Department brushed off British press criticism of Williams's current African tour as "editorial judgment."

NEGRO STAND-INS ATTACKED AGAIN AT NASHVILLE, TENN.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 25 (AP)—The fourth straight night white hecklers attacked Negroes marching through downtown Nashville, Tenn., after stand-in demonstrations at four motion picture theaters last night.

Police said rocks and eggs were thrown at about 125 demonstrators but that there were no serious injuries. Some of the throwing was by white youths in a parking lot across from a theater. One white youth was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct for throwing eggs.

The demonstrators, mostly Negro college students, were marching back to their meeting place at a church when the rock and egg throwing started. White persons turned out in force to harass the demonstrators on the three previous nights.

U.S. HINTS LACK OF FREE VOTING BARS CUBA TALKS

Concern Is Over Alien Ideology Permeating Revolution, State Department Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (UPI) — The Kennedy Administration hinted yesterday that it will not negotiate with Cuban Premier Castro until he submits to a free election.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the United States was concerned that an alien ideology had permeated the Cuban revolution and was exporting this ideology by subversion.

White made the carefully worded statement in reply to questions about recent Castro feelers indicating a desire to negotiate with the Kennedy Administration.

White said the State Department felt "that the best way for the Castro regime to demonstrate that it is interested in the independence of the Cuban nation and the welfare of its people is to establish freedom with full guarantees so that the Cuban people may freely choose their own destiny."

Castro told United Press International on Feb. 14 that Cuba was prepared to do its part to lessen tensions if Kennedy would do something to show that the United States would not interfere in Cuban internal affairs.

He said he did not want to continue hostility toward the United States, but said the United States must stop active help to the anti-Castro movement in Cuba.

The State Department statement said, "We are confident that when the people are given freedom of choice, they will choose freedom and not a foreign ideology."

White said the United States does not accept Castro's version of events, "blaming it all on us."

He said the United States "has great sympathy for the announced aims of the Cuban revolution and the provision of a better life for the Cuban people."

"Our concern is with the capture of that revolution by external influences for the purpose of imposing on Cuba an anti-democratic ideology . . . and exporting that ideology by subversion to other American republics."

BISHOP'S BOOK IS BARRED

PRETORIA, Feb. 24 (AP) — "The Shooting at Sharpeville," a newly-published book by the exiled Anglican Bishop Ambrose Reeves of Johannesburg, was barred yesterday by the South African government.

The bishop was deported last September after criticizing the segregationist government and especially the killing of many Africans at Sharpeville by white police last March.

Friends, Opponents in Senate Join in Tribute to Hennings

Symington and Long Take Part in Praise for Late St. Louisan at Memorial Service.

By THOMAS W. OTTENAD
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—The career of the late Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr. of Missouri was praised by political opponents as well as friends in an unusual memorial service yesterday in the Senate.

Veteran observers said the tribute paid the St. Louis Democrat who died last autumn was one of the most extensive given by the Senate to a deceased member in recent years.

It lasted for nearly an hour and a half. Other Senate business was suspended as one by one, 24 of Hennings's fellow Senators rose to pay homage to his memory.

Seven Republicans and 17 Democrats spoke. A number of the Republicans emphasized that they had differed with Hennings frequently on policy and legislative goals but all paid tribute to his character, citing his fairness, courtesy, brilliance and patience.

Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois, Republican minority leader of the Senate, recalled Hennings's vigorous and successful fight against the so-called Bricker amendment to the Constitution, which would have limited the power of the President in treaty-making.

"He was convinced I was wrong and I was convinced he was wrong," Dirksen said. "But of all the scholarly speeches that were made on this subject, none was greater than that delivered by Tom Hennings."

The Missourian's fight against the proposed amendment was successful by the margin of a single vote in 1954 when the Senate refused to adopt a resolution authorizing submission of the proposal to the states.

Dirksen recalled another issue in which he opposed Hennings. "I remember the patient and vigorous effort with which he labored in behalf of the clean elections bill," Dirksen said.

"For 11 days he appeared on the floor of the Senate fighting for this measure. I fought him every step of the way. But never did I see him lose his composure; never did I see him become angry or frustrated."

The measure for which Hennings fought for a number of years finally passed the Senate early in 1960 but never got out of committee in the House. The bill would have set higher limits on campaign expenditures and required reporting of campaign expenses in primary elections. Primaries now are exempt from a provision of this type which applies to general elections.

Many speakers praised Hennings's activities on behalf of civil liberties, constitutional guarantees and civil rights. His efforts in the field of juvenile delinquency were lauded and his understanding of constitutional law was cited frequently.

The tribute to Hennings was opened by Senators Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long, Missouri Democrats. Long was elected last November to fill the unexpired part of Hennings's term.

Symington reviewed what he described as Hennings's "truly distinguished career," observing, "He expressed on many occasions the conscience of the Senate as well, for he led many fights for the preservation of human rights and liberties essential to our democratic way of life."

The ceremony was attended by Hennings's wife, Elizabeth, and two daughters, Mrs. Robert McCandless and Miss Karla Hennings, all of Washington.

Hennings, 57 years old, died Sept. 13 after a lengthy illness resulting from abdominal cancer. He was elected to the Senate in 1950 and re-elected in 1956. He held important positions in the Senate and the Democratic party.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Hennings Sr., live in St. Louis.

MURDER WITNESS IS FOUND; MISSING FROM JAIL 3 HOURS

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Feb. 25 (AP)—Robert L. Russell, chief witness for the state in the Vincent Blaney murder, was found today three hours after he had disappeared from jail in nearby Absecon.

Russell was seized by four policemen as he rapped on the door of a house in Northfield, N.J. He was wet, his face bruised and his hands bound with wire.

Russell testified before the Atlantic county grand jury Thursday about the Blaney killing. Authorities said Russell asserted he had witnessed the murder. Police said Blaney had been ready to give evidence for the state concerning a $500,000 burglary in Pottsville, Pa., when he disappeared.

Indicted by the grand jury Thursday for the Blaney killing were Miss Lillian Reis, a 32-year-old divorcee and owner of Philadelphia's Celebrity Room nightclub; John Berkery, 27, of Haddon township, who surrendered to police in Pottsville Tuesday, and John Joseph Dillon, 25, of Philadelphia.

RUSSIA WILL MAKE CO-EXISTENCE DOGMA

Party's New Constitution Will Also Eliminate Last Private Property.

MOSCOW, Feb. 25 (UPI)—The Soviet Union published yesterday a preview of a radical new Communist party constitution which will make the doctrine of peaceful co-existence a new Marxist principle.

The preview, contained in an editorial in the official party publication Kommunist, said the new constitution will eliminate the last vestiges of private property in Russia.

This will lead "to elimination of class differences and the establishment of a classless Communist society," the editorial said.

The new fundamental principles of the constitution will be included in a draft program to be submitted to Premier Khrushchev at the twenty-second party congress Oct. 17, Kommunist said.

The new constitution will replace the first set of party principles adopted in 1919, when Russia was torn by civil war.

As previewed by Kommunist, the new constitution will give a greater voice to the people in the management of industry, transform the co-operative farms into public property and provide greater intra-party democracy.

A commission on constitutional revision, under the chairmanship of Khrushchev, has been at work on the new principles for several years. It is scheduled to report to the congress.

The constitution will elevate Khrushchev doctrines on the peaceful transition from capitalism to socialism into "scientific principle," the magazine said.

Khrushchev, despite opposition from China and several national Communist parties, was able to win acceptance of the principle of peaceful co-existence with the West at the Bucharest conference of Communist powers in June 1960, and at last fall's conference in Moscow of 81 Communist parties, the magazine said.

The Khrushchev position clashes with the doctrine laid down by Lenin that armed conflict between socialist and capitalist camps was inevitable.

EFFORTS MADE TO SPEED ACTION ON LAST OF FOUR STADIUM BILLS

Aldermanic Committee's Immediate Approval Delayed by Absence of Some Members.

The remaining bill needed to clear the way for the $89,000,000 downtown stadium project probably will be passed by the Board of Aldermen Monday, A. Barney Mueller, chairman of the aldermanic committee on land clearance, announced today.

Mueller tried to present the bill at today's meeting, but some members of his committee were absent. Their signatures will be necessary before it can be reported favorably to the board.

The bill, which would provide for an agreement for use of facilities of the Land Clearance Authority by the developers, had to remain in committee yesterday for legal reasons. Three companion measures were passed by the committee to the board, which approved them without dissent.

Developer Ready to Move.

O. O. McCracken, executive director of the Civic Center Redevelopment Corp., said the developer will be ready to move quickly once the legislative phase of the program is out of the way.

"The next step would be signing the contracts that give us legal authority to proceed," McCracken said. "Then we will arrange our financing."

A total of $17,260,000 has been pledged toward a needed equity of about $20,000,000. The balance would be secured through a loan. McCracken said the redevelopment corporation's executive committee is confident the rest of the equity can be raised.

One of the bills passed yesterday approved the Civic Center Redevelopment Corporation's plan and authorized the Mayor and Comptroller to enter into a contract with the corporation on behalf of the city.

It provides that the stadium must have a seating capacity of 50,000 and be built for possible future expansion to 70,000.

As part of the project there also would be multi-level parking for 7400 automobiles, an 800-room motel and five or more multi-level office and commercial structures.

Construction Plans.

Acquisition of land will begin immediately and construction is to begin within 24 months. Construction of the first stage, which includes the stadium, a commercial plaza, parking garages and 400 rooms of the motel, would be completed within 30 months after the start.

The bill sets time limits for beginning the other stages of the project. The city agrees to vacate streets and alleys, provide new services and acquire a two-block area bounded by Seventh, Chestnut and Market streets, and Broadway, by July 1, 1963, for development of the Market street mall.

The other bills qualify the project under federal and state land clearance statutes for aid in the development.

The board also passed two bills which authorized the city to contract with the Missouri Highway Department for details in construction of the Ozark Expressway and a short portion of the Daniel Boone Expressway.

Under the agreement, the city will vacate streets and alleys, relocate facilities, maintain lighting and traffic signals and pay 10 per cent of the right-of-way cost for the Ozark Expressway.

The state will agree to replace the present lighting on the Daniel Boone Expressway, between Boyle and Theresa avenues, with mercury vapor illumination. The state will maintain the roadway.

Restaurant Ordinance.

Two amendments were passed to the restaurant licensing ordinance. One provides that two seats will count as one as a basis of determining the license fee of a restaurant which also pays a liquor license fee. Each parking space at a drive-in restaurant will count as two seats, another amendment provides.

The aldermen approved a bill declaring the wharf master's office on the Mississippi riverfront surplus. The Federal Government may now remove the structure as part of the development of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial.

Special water rates will be given to any charitable or philanthropic institution providing free services to 10 per cent or more of its patients in an amendment to an existing ordinance passed by the board.

The aldermen passed bills to rezone nine lots on Hampton avenue in the St. Louis Hills area and property on the south side of Lansdowne avenue, between Chippewa street and Donovan, from commercial to multiple dwelling.

Both bills, introduced by Alderman John Sartorius (Dem.), twenty-third ward, were opposed by the City Plan Commission.

Sartorius said developers plan to build a group of five-story apartments on Hampton and four-family dwellings on Lansdowne.

Bills authorizing appropriations for a series of public improvement projects were introduced. Most of the money would come from the 1955 bond issue.

One bill would appropriate $900,000 for construction of an underpass to carry the Forest Park Expressway under Grand boulevard. The Board of Public Service would be authorized to let contracts for the work.

Additional Proposals.

Other appropriation measures were introduced as follows:

1. $250,000 for resurfacing of city streets.

2. $2,000,000 to pay part of the city's share of flood control work now under way in north St. Louis.

3. $193,000 for planning and development of park areas in the vicinity of the Darst Apartments at Twelfth street and Park avenue.

4. $40,000 for plans and specifications of a master plan for future development of the St. Louis Zoo.

5. $1,003,000 for acquisition of sites for parks and playgrounds.

6. $40,500 from the neighborhood rehabilitation fund for repaving and repairing of streets and alleys in the Cherokee rehabilitation area.

Bill for Bond Sale.

Another bill would authorize sale of $12,676,000 in bonds from the 1955 bond issue for future projects. A total of $73,777,000 of the $110,639,000 issue has been sold.

Also introduced was a bill to change the ordinance against dissemination of obscene literature, which was declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court. The amendment states that a manufacturer or seller of the literature must have knowledge of the content.

Tie-in sales which would compel magazine dealers to purchase obscene literature from the wholesalers also would be barred by another amendment to the bill. The maximum penalty would be a $500 fine and 100 days in jail.

The board voted to override Mayor Raymond R. Tucker's veto of two zoning revision bills. One would permit three-family usage of old three-story mansions in areas now zoned for two-family residences. The bill restricts occupancy to one family on each floor, with separate kitchens and bath facilities for each family, and off-street parking areas.

The other will permit multi-storied office buildings in areas where multi-storied apartment buildings are permitted. Both bills were sponsored by Alderman Joseph B. McDonald (Rep.), Twenty-fifth ward.

New Spencer T. Olin Residence Hall at Washington University School of Medicine which was dedicated yesterday.

OLIN DORMITORY DEDICATION HELD

Dedication ceremonies were held yesterday for the new Spencer T. Olin Residence Hall at Washington University's School of Medicine. It is the school's first dormitory.

Dr. Robert A. Moore, president and dean of State University of New York's Downtown Medical Center, delivered the main address, tracing the pattern of student residence halls from the last century.

"A good hall," he said, "will by its program and its environment engender a sense of responsibility in its members. It will bring business men, academicians, politicians and other distinguished visitors from all over the world." Dr. Moore is a former dean of Washington University Medical School.

The new hall, at 4550 Scott avenue, can accommodate 295 students. Begun in November 1958, the 11-story building contains a two-story gymnasium, a snack bar and dining room, several music rooms, laundry, locker and shower facilities and a penthouse.

It is named for Spencer T. Olin, a director of Olin-Mathieson Chemical Co., who donated more than $500,000 for construction. Total cost of the building and furnishings was about $2,400,000, it was stated.

PROPOSES FORMING GROUP FOR REVITALIZING CITY

Theodore S. (Ted) Martin, Democratic candidate for the Board of Alderman from the Twenty-seventh ward, today urged legislation for the creation of a special committee to "continue and preserve the revitalization of the city."

His five-point program consists of: Alerting the citizenry; developing support from the business community; continued strong executive leadership; an enlightened and progressive Board of Aldermen and support and co-operation from neighborhood associations.

Martin said, "Only through an intensive and dramatic program will the progress already attained be preserved and through such a program great strides toward the complete revitalization of the city will be accomplished."

GRANDSON SOUGHT IN KILLING IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

The body of Carl P. Hendricks, who was sought by police in the fatal beating of his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Hendricks, was found today near his home, 3952 Sullivan avenue. He was shot in the head. A .38-caliber revolver was in his hand.

Police had gone to the Hendricks' home last night after neighbors reported the 90-year-old woman had been beaten by her grandson. She died of a skull injury. Police said a metal folding chair apparently was used in the beating.

Police said Hendricks, 33, a former mental patient, had been dead for several hours. His body was found in an area-way near 3958 Sullivan. Neighbors reported hearing a shot last night a short time after the beating occurred.

G. O. P. FINANCES PRINCIPAL TOPIC FOR LINCOLN DAY

Nangle Says Party Should Spend $30,000 a Year in Each of 3 Areas in State.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 25 (AP) —A state Republican leader said party finances would be the most important subject to be discussed at the party's annual Lincoln celebration today.

John F. Nangle, president of the Missouri Association of Republicans, said in an interview that at least $30,000 a year should be spent by the party in each of the state's three metropolitan areas — Kansas City, St. Louis and St. Louis county.

The money, he said, would support a basic permanent organization that would keep in close communication with voters.

Nangle, who is also chairman, of the St. Louis County Committee and a member of the Republican State Committee, said the backers of the Democratic party in Missouri are men of big business, industry and wealth.

In the campaign last fall, he said, the Democrats outspent the Republicans heavily in all parts of the state.

"In St. Louis the persons supporting the Democratic mayor are the vested interests," Nangle said. "These same persons are behind Gov. Dalton. They are the men supporting Senator Symington and Senator Long, who themselves are men of affluence."

Nangle cited statements that Missouri is far behind most states in support of schools, mental health and road-building. "In the last 40 years Missouri has had only one Republican governor," he continued. "Now whom could you blame for this situation?"

The Missouri association is organized solely to organize the annual Lincoln celebration.

Representative Vernon W. Thomson of Wisconsin said the Kennedy Administration inflicted deep wounds in Congress in the fight over the Rules Committee expansion.

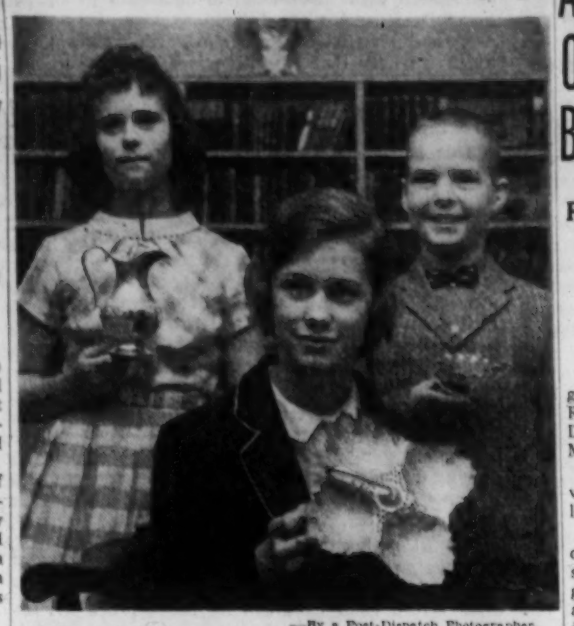

"The friendship lost in that fight will show up at a later time," Thompson said in an interview. He will be the main speaker at the dinner tonight.

"When the Kennedy Administration enlarged the Rules Committee it took the power from the committee and gave it to Speaker Sam Rayburn," Thomson said. "In the future we may get a new Speaker who won't obey the Administration. Then the Kennedy people will see the error they made. They created an autocrat.

"And to get their way in the Rules Committee fight, they used all sorts of coercion. The Secretary of the Interior called various Congressmen and inquired about reclamation projects and dams planned in their districts, then told them to be sure they didn't make any mistakes in the Rules Committee vote.

NEW SCOTT BASE COMMUNICATIONS UNIT HEAD NAMED

Maj. Gen. Harold W. Grant has been assigned to head the Air Force's global communications command which will be established July 1 with headquarters at Scott Base at Belleville, it was announced yesterday. Gen. Grant now is director of Air Force communications and is stationed at the Pentagon.

The new communications service will assume responsibilities which are now divided among many Air Force commands and agencies.

Transfer of responsibility to the new communications command will be done on a phased basis and is scheduled for completion by July 1963, an Air Force spokesman explained.

A world-wide communications network now directed by the Air and Airways Communications Service at Scott Base will become the nucleus for the expansion of the new communications command, a spokesman said.

ROOMING HOUSE OWNER FINED $1000 FOR VIOLATIONS

Marvin Pertuisot, proprietor of a rooming house at 4363 Laclede avenue, was fined $1000 by Police Judge Rodney A. Weiss yesterday on his plea of guilty to two charges of violating the city building code.

Pertuisot was charged last Dec. 5 with operating a rooming house without a city permit and failure to provide two exits on the third floor. The charges stemmed from an investigation of a fire Dec. 4 at the rooming house in which two roomers died.

FINED ON 2 TRAFFIC COUNTS INVOLVING CHASE IN THEFT

George Nunns, an unemployed salesman, was fined $100 on each of two charges of leaving the scene of an accident by Circuit Judge Virgil A. Poelker at Clayton yesterday on his plea of guilty. A charge of stealing under $50 is still pending in magistrate court at Clayton.

Nunns was arrested last May 25 by Florissant police after a high-speed chase on U.S. Highway 66 and the Mark Twain Expressway. He was pursued by police after a supermarket manager reported catching Nunns stealing 16 cartons of cigarettes.

When police arrived, Nunns drove away. In the chase he struck two parked automobiles and continued on. He was forced to halt on the Mark Twain Expressway after a tire blew out at McKelvey road. County police records show that Nunns has served four prison terms.

WOMAN IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH, PISTOL IN HAND

Mrs. Susie O. Eaton was found shot to death last night in her home, 3437 Wyoming street, after neighbors called police. There was a revolver in her hand.

The body, shot in the head, was lying on a bed. There were no notes. Neighbors said Mrs. Eaton, 62 years old, a widow, had been despondent because of the illness of her sister.

ANOTHER WARD ORGANIZATION BACKS HOLLORAN

Regular 28th Group Charges Tucker Has Failed to Solve Problems.

The second regular ward organization indorsement of Mark R. Holloran in the race for the Democratic nomination for Mayor was announced today.

The Twenty-eighth Ward voted last night to back Holloran.

Bruce Nangle, Democratic committeeman for the ward, said Holloran's business background in downtown St. Louis and his extensive public service "assure us that he has a complete understanding of the many pressing problems facing our city, and has the means of correcting these problems."

"His opponent, having completed eight years in the City Hall, has failed to resolve even one basic problem which confronted our community in 1953, upon assuming office," Nangle declared.

"This, coupled with a strong tradition in this country of limiting executive office holders to two terms, adds strength to our belief that it would be in the best interest of the city if a change in administration were effected."

Holloran has also been indorsed in the Tenth Ward. Nineteen regular ward groups have indorsed Mayor Raymond R. Tucker, Holloran's opponent in the March 7 primary election.

Mayor Tucker was criticized today for his "failure to come to grips" with the snow removal problem by Ben Lindenbusch, unopposed Republican candidate for Mayor.

"The Mayor should let the citizens know what he intends to do about the next heavy fall of snow. Year after year, we face the same problem of snow-clogged streets, which slow traffic to a standstill. The business and service community becomes paralyzed," Lindenbusch said.

"The administration's failure to come to grips with this problem, which occurs only a few times a year, clearly indicates its ineffectiveness in handling the city's day-to-day problems."

Military Staff for Johnson.

All About Appaloosas

In writing the story about the Horse Auction at National City Stock Yards you describe an Appaloosa horse as follows: "The Appaloosa is noted for unusual coloring and markings. They have one dark and one light eye, their coloring may be speckled or have a bluish cast."

This is not an Appaloosa and is a nasty thing to say as they do not have one light and one dark eye and are by no means all speckled or bluish cast.

We are one of the first breeders of Appaloosas in St. Louis and as a result of this description have had to go out of the house to keep off the phone because of people calling.

There are two types of Appaloosas, one called leopard type and the other blanket type. The leopard type can be either dark or light color with spots over all the body. The blanket type is solid or roan in front and white blanket over rear. Some of the blanket type have spots in the white and some do not.

Appaloosas do not have one dark and one light eye. Some Appaloosas have what is called glass eyes or maybe one glass as do all breeds of horses, but for the most part have both eyes the same color.

The Appaloosa horse is an Indian horse and can be seen on TV on several of the Westerns (Wagon Train, Outlaws, Westerner, one of the Shirley Temple programs and several others). Most Appaloosas are considered to be western-type horses; however, they have been used as jumpers, hunters, three-gaited and parade horses.

The Appaloosa horse dates back over 4000 years. It originated in Libya. The Nez Perce Indians took a liking for them because they were already painted for battle by Mother Nature. Chief Joseph had a herd of 3000 horses which he kept in the area of the Palouse river which is where the name Appaloosa came from.

The white men killed or scattered most of these horses and as a result the Appaloosa became almost extinct. The registry for Appaloosa horses is now over 10,000 and growing by leaps and bounds. Anyone who would like to see an Appaloosa is welcome to come by and take a peek at the ones we have.

New Taxes on Elders

Most states and the Federal Government are trying to help, or at least lighten the load of old people; in fact the Federal Government allows them two exemptions after 65. But Missouri — no — they now plan to tax the amount of social security or railroad retirement income received by these old people.

What can be done to protect us older people from this injustice? Cannot some other, fairer means of taxation be found? Over 65

Holding up Refunds

This may strike you as a picayune complaint, but for me and many others it's more than just an annoyance.

For reasons which I do not know, the City of St. Louis is once again unreasonably overdue in distributing to its employes the Internal Revenue Bureau Form W-2. In 1960, after several unexplained delays, they were distributed well after the first of March, and it looks as though the same thing is going to happen again this year.

Two weeks ago I was told that I would receive my W-2 around Feb. 15, but now I'm told it won't be until sometime in March. I can't believe that this is caused by anything but negligence and poor management.

In these days of economic recession, it is vital that people receive their income tax refunds (if any) as soon as possible, and in fact this has been stressed by President Kennedy and other Administration officials. Yet our hands are tied due to the short-sightedness of some muddlehead at City Hall.

Money for Schools

The foremost question in the minds of many parents is what school financial support we shall receive from the Missouri General Assembly.

The burden of school support is born by the tax on property, which at present provides two thirds of school revenue.

The General Assembly in session should accept the responsibility of allocating funds of an amount to fully support its Foundation program. If the anticipated revenue of the state is not sufficient, new taxes or increases in present taxes are indicated.

Aid for Excellence

It is more than slightly amazing that in connection with federal aid to education so many irrelevancies are treated as high, ancient and unassailable principles. Time and again we hear that education is a local responsibility. So it is. But does this mean that local and state school boards are the exclusive repositories of wisdom and integrity?

This hardly is borne out by the record. All too often they have been dominated by political considerations, and even more often they have yielded to pressure groups bent on exploiting the "captive audience" of the class room. Food processors, automobile dealers, savings banks and business organizations of all sorts, through local school boards, have foisted self-serving courses and textbooks on local schools. Surely they would not find such easy marks in Washington.

Or should we see behind the "federal control" bogey—and that is what it really is—a tyrannical and dictatorial government bent on brainwashing the pupils of America and turning our educational system into one after a despot's desire? To mention the possibility is to laugh it off.

Federal authority, insofar as it deserves reasonable consideration, would not and could not be applied to American education in general. But a good case can be made for a measure of federal control over federal school dollars. President Kennedy has asked Congress to leave it to the states to decide whether federal grants should be spent for buildings or for teachers' pay. But should this mean that a state or local school board is to be left free to spend federal dollars for an "Olympic" swimming pool, the largest fieldhouse in the state, or a model housekeeping "laboratory"? Should federal dollars be available to employ a winning football coach or an instructor in feminine charm?

Or should Washington have the authority to insist that its contribution be used to improve the academic quality of the public schools, to provide the qualified instructors—and the facilities, too — for teaching languages, mathematics, science, history—the so-called "core" subjects rather than the "frills"?

Like many a worried educator, Mr. Kennedy recognized the shortcomings of our schools and their implications for the future. So even though he urged no federal educational requirements, he did set before the schools the standard of excellence. Surely the value of federal aid would be greatly enhanced if it were conditioned on efforts to realize this ideal.

The Anti-Missile Situation

Testimony in Congress this week made a strong case for the Nike Zeus anti-missile missile, and now the Joint Chiefs of Staff have approved limited production of it even before its capacity to knock down long-range ballistic missiles has been proved.

The Army's civilian and military research chiefs told the House Committee on Science and Astronautics that Soviet Russia is devoting a major effort to perfecting an anti-missile missile. They add that if the Russians should succeed first in this field, the balance of military power would be upset. It is apparent that a counter to the ballistic missile would confer a tremendous advantage to the nation first developing it.

Thus far the Zeus has passed each test, and is only 18 months away from a definitive test against an Atlas shot. The Army is so certain of intercepting the Atlas that it seeks to begin some actual production of Zeus now. In short, the Army is staking its missile reputation on the Zeus. Recalling the success of the Polaris and the surprising and rapid progress on the nearly perfected solid-fuel Minuteman, it appears that the Zeus is worth the $200,000,000 the Army wants to develop it.

All the People

With due attention to Missouri's official motto, "The welfare of the people shall be the supreme law," ninety-one organizations sent delegates to a Jefferson City conference on human rights sponsored by the Missouri Association for Social Welfare. The people's welfare, the meeting agreed, would be served by two new pieces of legislation.

One is a state fair employment practices law. Nineteen states have such laws fully enforceable as to public and private employment; Missouri does not. The other is a public accommodations law. Twenty-six states have these, including neighboring Illinois and Kansas; Missouri does not.

The 1960 report of the State Commission on Human Rights made an exhaustive case for giving legal encouragement to equal rights and opportunities in employment, accommodations, housing—yes, even in education. To provide such encouragement, however, the commission itself still needs legal authority to compel testimony at its hearings and to order an end to discrimination in these fields if persuasion does not work.

Neither the state nor its Legislature ought to be satisfied with its present record. After all, the state motto is not limited to the welfare of some of the people.

More Funds for Peace

The frequently-heard assertion that a disarmament agreement might bring about severe damage to the defense-geared United States economy is pretty well discredited in a Budget Bureau report submitted to President Eisenhower two days before he left office. This suggests that if disarmament were achieved national security spending could be cut back 23 billion dollars—more than half—in the next 10 years.

But there would be no vacuum. The report points out that there are already enough programs of a domestic, non-defense nature, such as public works construction, under consideration to absorb three-quarters of the savings from disarmament by 1970. Foreign aid expenditures might be double what they otherwise would be by the end of the 1960s, the report stated.

While the disarmament section of the report was only one part, it represented one of the few efforts to evaluate the economic consequences of disarmament and hence is of considerable interest. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is at present surveying industrial concerns for the same purpose.

The fear of economic dislocation is no argument against a disarmament agreement, and yet if the fear could be allayed it would contribute that much to public insistence on reaching an agreement. Freeing a quarter of the national budget for peacetime spending would solve many national problems, and anyone with confidence in the strength and flexibility of the American economic system knows it can be done.

Rail Mergers and Employment

Should merged railroads be compelled by law to wait four years after merging before they effect those particular economies made possible by merger which consist of laying off and transferring employes? The United States Supreme Court has agreed to rule in its current term whether this is the law, but it remains the responsibility of Congress to determine whether it should be the law. Since the law in question was enacted 20 years ago, and affects such serious current problems as unemployment and the financial plight of the railroads, Congress would do well to reexamine it in the light of presently existing conditions, however the court interprets the language of the Transportation Act of 1940.

The Erie-Lackawanna merger of last October has already been impaled on this thorny point, and at least six other railroad mergers pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission are moving toward a similar position. Unless the issue is satisfactorily settled, it may prove a major deterrent to improvement of the railroad situation through mergers and consolidations—and in that event also employment may be adversely affected.

There is no question that measures should be taken to cushion the impact on railroad employes who would be discharged or transferred to lower-paying jobs. The only question is what and how much can be done and should be done.

In the case of the Erie-Lackawanna the plan approved by the ICC provided for severance pay to those laid off and compensatory pay for those transferred to jobs at decreased salaries. It seems reasonable also that some period of time might be allowed for displaced employes to find new jobs. But an arbitrary freeze for four years would go far to defeat the purpose of the mergers, and unless something were done meantime to retrain and relocate displaced employes they might find themselves as badly off at the end of that period as they were at the start—perhaps even worse off.

Finding a reasonably satisfactory answer, which will keep the railroads solvent and the workers employed, will not be easy, and it deserves more careful consideration than Congress has yet given it.

Mr. Bruns Misses the Point

School Board Member Bruns's defense of wages paid school craftsmen is erected on ground that nobody disputes. The argument is most definitely not whether to pay craftsmen the prevailing rate in private industry.

Instead it is over which prevailing rate should be paid—the rate prevailing in private industry for maintenance employes, or the so-called construction rate, which is higher and is what the school mechanics actually get. A personnel consultant retained by the Board has recommended that pay scales of more than 200 maintenance employes be reduced by 15 per cent to bring them in line with wages paid such craftsmen in private industry.

A larger question flowing directly from this situation is whether the School Board should support a full-time maintenance force at all. The Kearney report of 1954, for which the Board paid $50,000, recommended that virtually all school maintenance should be let out on bids to private contractors. Kearney said the school Building Department was so top-heavy that the outsiders could make a reasonable profit and still do the work cheaper than the Board's mechanics.

Aside from the excessive number of Board mechanics on the payroll, one of the factors that tends to make the Board non-competitive with private contractors is the insistence of men like Mr. Bruns, a union official, on paying the top construction scale for simple maintenance work. That is the issue. If Mr. Bruns won't speak to it, then maybe those who are running for Board seats will.

Lord Home on China

There is considerable logic in the declaration of the Earl of Home that "the facts of international life require that Communist China should be seated in the United Nations." But Britain's outspoken foreign secretary might have waited a bit, or co-ordinated his remarks with Washington policy, before making his statement in Parliament. His intent apparently was to give notice that future British diplomacy will seek to influence the United States to accept the view that Communist China's entry into the U.N. is inevitable.

Probably it is inevitable, and probably it is one of the subjects Prime Minister Macmillan will raise when he visits President Kennedy in about six weeks. Yet the statement was not the result of any prior consultation with Washington, and the timing was wrong. President Kennedy and Messrs. Rusk, Bowles and Stevenson know they must deal with the China question, but they are confronted with problems of greater immediacy and clearly would prefer to set it aside until they have time to formulate a new policy.

Lord Home's address had another unfortunate result. It prompted a report by the Committee of One Million that a majority of Congressmen had indorsed a statement opposing admission. Endeavoring to get members of Congress on the record in a matter of this kind is a disservice, since it tends to inhibit the conduct of foreign affairs by the executive branch.

In commenting on Lord Home's speech the State Department pointed out that discussion of Red China's admission must "confront the cold, hard fact of Communist China's own attitude." The Department quoted Premier Chou En-lai as saying recently: "The United Nations must expel the Chiang Kai-shek clique and restore China's legitimate rights, otherwise it will be impossible for China to have anything to do with the United Nations."

What sort of new policy can be evolved? The Nationalist government on Formosa and the Communist regime in Peiping agree on only one thing—that Formosa is a province of mainland China. Both governments declare they will not accept the "two Chinas" solution, which is the West's main hope of a settlement. British prodding will be appropriate if and when the Kennedy Administration fails to produce a policy; right now it is out of place.

"THIS LITTLE KID'S GOT A BIG GUY WITH HIM."

Why an Area Junior College?

It Offers Practical Way of Getting State Aid, Progressing Toward Full College

Statement by Mrs. Aaron Fischer, Chairman of the Metropolitan Committee on Higher Educational Needs

Let me begin with the first question which we had to resolve: What is the local need? While we were waiting for local statistics to be collected, we studied the Pfnister Report on Missouri, published in 1957. It said: "Reproducing in total the educational facilities of all of the existing Missouri public colleges, liberal arts colleges and junior colleges would fall short by 10,000 of providing sufficient facilities for the expected 1970-71 full-time enrollment."

The Mirror of Public Opinion

We asked ourselves the next question: Was there room for extra students in 1958—and would there be room for the projected enrollments in 1973? Well, yes, there was some room to spare, a little, in 1958. By 1973? The projections for expanded capacity of all of the public and private institutions in the 27-county area around St. Louis would provide room for about one-half of the more conservative enrollment projection.

We agreed, therefore, that for some time to come an increasing percentage of 18- to 21-year-olds would, and should, seek some kind of post high school educational opportunity. It brought to mind a decision made earlier in the history of education in the United States. I refer to the decision that an increasing number of young people should go to high school. At one time even high school education was for the few.

Next we took a look at tuition costs versus family income. We learned from the seniors themselves, in the 1959 classes, that in the city of St. Louis incomes of less than $5000 were found in nearly 44 per cent of the white families, and in nearly 28 per cent of the St. Louis county white families—at the same time we learned that tuitions had more than doubled in the last nine years. Many students would obviously have to live at home if they were to be able to afford to go on beyond the high school.

One thing was striking. With the great cluster of population of a metropolitan center available, we had made provision for public higher education only at Harris. Moreover, Harris Teachers College, as your homework indicates, receives but a small percentage of its budget from the state and Harris Junior College (in the same building), as with all public junior colleges in Missouri, receives no money from the state.

So we found a dearth of public facilities and a dearth of state assistance. The enrollment at the University of Missouri - Normandy Residence Center, created after publication of our report, serves to emphasize the need.

Because we believe that public higher educational facilities in the St. Louis area must be expanded and that more state money than at present should be made available for their support, we recommend a new college district which would initially provide a two-year college to be financed partially by the state. We recommend further that in five years, if the college has been successful, it be expanded to a four-year program with a review at that time of the financial arrangements with the state.

Why did we recommend two steps: First, a two-year program financed three ways, and then a four-year program with revised financing on the part of the state? We did it because we believe this method has advantages.

First, a two-year program partially state financed will bring state money into this area which we do not now receive. There is no local two-year program which receives any state money at present.

Second, it departs from the pattern of the permanent two-year program in Missouri, which is essentially an extension of the local high school, and substitutes an area program, separate from any local school district, thus in our opinion facilitating adequate planning and the establishment of entrance requirements.

Third, by asking for state money for a two-year program, we are inviting outstate support, since this need is not limited to the St. Louis area. We shall need outstate support in the Legislature. Such support greatly enhances our chances of success.

Fourth, it provides the possibility within reasonable time of both an area two-year program and a four-year program with state assistance for each. If we are to maintain quality and, at the same time, provide for great diversity of capacities and interest, we believe both kinds of programs will be required—in the long run.

Fifth, the need is immediate. We believe this two-step recommendation carries the best possibility for this area of establishing a good institution, with state aid, relatively quickly. We further believe that the citizens of this area will be willing to pay a part of the cost of this initial step to insure prompt action in what is truly becoming a crisis.

Sixth, the pattern of beginning with a two-year institution which then grows into a four-year state-supported institution has worked in other urban communities.

In human terms—two or three years wasted in a young person's life for lack of appropriate and adequate education can spell disaster for him and for our society. In the St. Louis area—lack of educational opportunities can downgrade our community as a desirable place to live. This can cost us more annually in economic loss than the entire cost of the educational facilities.

Power of Example

From The Washington Post

President Kennedy is following through commendably with his promise to set an example with respect to the gifts that are showered on high officials. Between 6000 and 7000 presents have been received at the White House since Inauguration day. These range from booties for young John F. Kennedy Jr. to works of art. The plan is to distribute gifts such as clothing and toys to local orphanages and homes for crippled children, whereas more imposing items will be retained for display or sent to a museum.

This plan comports with President Kennedy's statement last October. At that time he said that all gifts that could not appropriately be refused should be assigned immediately to public agencies for public purposes. The President, by example, can create a climate of propriety for Government servants generally. That is precisely what Mr. Kennedy appears to be doing.

One Family's Faith

ON WINGS OF FAITH, by Violeta Constantine Kokenes. (Random House, 244 pgs., $3.95.)

The Kokenes family — Tata, who writes this account; her husband, Connie, and their young son, Tiko—lived high adventure in the course of a 19,000-mile flight around South America in a small family airplane. This adventure is told quite humanly in "On Wings of Faith," a story of one family's faith in making a perilous trip—making it because it was there to do and no one else in their circumstances had ever done it before.

The reader will see just how much a story of faith it is when he reads the pages of that part of the trip from British Honduras to the small Mexican island of Cozumel, off Yucatan. There, as Mrs. Kokenes prays and the young boy sleeps, Mr. Kokenes maneuvers the ship around so that eventually the lights of Conzumel show off the horizon, distantly but happily.

The trip obviously brought the family closer together. But personal tragedy was to strike soon afterwards in an accident that killed both the husband and the son. Mrs. Kokenes got out of that accident, and set about the task of finishing her book.

The book is not profound; it is not a carefully researched story on South America. But in a way it is just as impressive, for it is a story of faith and love that brings a family through many hard experiences and then brings a widow through a difficult tran-tion. James Nelson Goodsell.

FIVE SEA CAPTAINS: THEIR OWN ACCOUNTS OF VOYAGES UNDER SAIL, edited by Walter Teller. (Atheneum, 430 pages, $7.95.

New England seafaring men of some generations ago were first of all navigators and traders and a few of them had the wit and skill to write their own books. The five whose works Mr. Teller edits had adventure aplenty and knew how to relate it. In his introductory essay, Mr. Teller brings out the historical background in which these sea captains lived, sailed and wrote, and he also reveals that the sailor-writer is far more deeply embedded in our literary tradition than is generally known. Those who love sea stories will enjoy this book. Contemporary illustrations add salt to its flavor.

ANNIE FISCHER IN SUPERIOR CONCERT

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

Annie Fischer, a Hungarian pianist and a superior artist in every respect, made her first appearance with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra yesterday afternoon in the Khorassan Room of the Chase Hotel. Edouard Van Remoortel conducted. Miss Fischer played two concertos of widely differing character and had the authority and musical grasp appropriate to each.

The first, Mozart's Concerto in E Flat Major (K. 482), is one of those miraculous pieces of music that has something for the connoisseur, but appeals to every listener according to his nature. Miss Fischer's performance had true elegance of line, and despite the dull accoustics of the hall she was able to make every note audible and give life and poetry to the phrase by delicate inflection. The scale of the work naturally was somewhat reduced, so far as volume was concerned, but the performer was clever enough to accommodate her playing to the situation and keep everything in the right proportion. All details were meticulously clear.

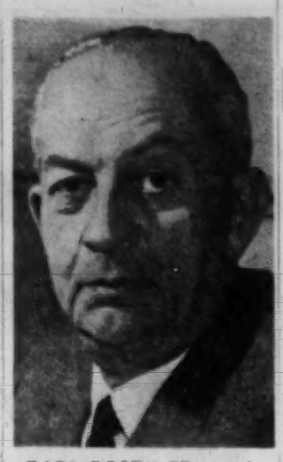

In the Liszt concerto, also in E Flat, the soloist played with a surprising amount of power and produced genuinely thundering crescendos and billowing cascades in the more ornate passages. The orchestra was handled by Van Remoortel with sympathetic discretion, particularly in the Mozart concerto. Miss Fischer's performance was received with great enthusiasm.

Van Remoortel and the orchestra opened the concert with three excerpts from the 'Iberia Suite" by Isaac Albeniz, as orchestrated by E. Fernandez Arbos. This is a rich and busy score, and needs the sonority of a good auditorium to be acceptable. The only one of the three excerpts that came over at all satisfactorily was the "Evocacion," which is so written that all the notes can be sustained and elided.

Beethoven's Fourth Symphony was the concluding number. This proved to be congenial to Van Remoortel and he was successful in projecting the vigorous geniality of the fast movements and the tranquility of the adagio.

The same program will be played tonight in Kiel Auditorium.

FELLOWSHIP CENTER FUND HAS $75,000

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Federation of Evangelical and Reformed Churches of Greater St. Louis has raised about half of its goal of $150,000 for new buildings and equipment at Fellowship Center, 1121 North Ninth street. The neighborhood house, which serves families living in public housing projects, is largely supported by the federation.

A report on the fund-raising campaign was made this week at the annual meeting of the federation at St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed Church, St. Louis and Warne avenues. About 400 persons attended the dinner meeting.

The federation represents 54 congregations in the St. Louis area. The new president is William R. Pelster, general manager of Eden Publishing House and a member of St. James Church, 1507 East College avenue.

Scholarship Presented.

A feature of the annual meeting was the presentation of a three-year scholarship to Miss Ann Finkle, who grew up in the Fellowship Center Sunday school and congregation, taking part in the year-round program at the neighborhood house.

Fellowship Center is part of an arrangement linking three agencies which serve underprivileged persons over a wide downtown area. Caroline Mission at 1823 Hickory street is the oldest. The Rev. Lee W. Tyler is the director, and the Rev. William H. Daniels is pastor of the mission congregation.

The newest of the three agencies is Plymouth House, a social service center in the Carr Square public housing area. It is supported by Congregational churches, which have merged with the Evangelical and Reformed Church to form the United Church of Christ. The St. Louis Housing Authority provided a building for Plymouth House at 1521 Carr street on a dollar a year basis. The new center will be dedicated Sunday, March 5. The Rev. Kenneth L. Klingerman is director of Plymouth House.

First Pastor.

The Rev. Louis V. Huber is general administrator of the three United Church of Christ's three neighborhood houses—Caroline Mission, Fellowship Center, and Plymouth House. He has served at Fellowship Center for 10 years and was the first pastor of the congregation.

One of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Federation of Evangelical and Reformed Churches was the Rev. Dr. W. Wilder Towle, state minister of the Congregational Christian Conference of Missouri.

"It is becoming clear to the Christian community that a frontier of missions lies at our very doorstep—in the great metropolitan areas," the Rev. Dr. Towle said. "The moral crisis of the cities, represented by the erosion of values and the withering of meanings in Christian terms, is a challenge the church must meet.

"The recent opening of Plymouth House in Carr Square represents an answer by Congregationalists," he said. "But it is more than that. It is a significant co-operative approach to missions in the hard, hard core of the inner city."

Receiving Scholarship

MISS ANN FINKLE of St. Louis, junior at Elmhurst (Ill.) College, receives check from Federation of Evangelical and Reformed Churches to pay for three years' study to be a director of religious education. Miss Finkle is a member of Fellowship Center, 1121 North Ninth street. The $1500 scholarship was provided for by the late Edward Fleischer, member of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church, 3510 Giles avenue. Mrs. Fleischer lives at 3667 McDonald avenue. Others in the picture are PROF. OSCAR RUMPF of Eden Theological Seminary, president of the board of trustees of Fellowship Center (left), and the REV. LOUIS V. HUBER, administrator of the neighborhood house. The award was made this week at the annual meeting of the federation.

DISCIPLES OBSERVE MISSIONS WEEK

Three guest speakers will take part in the annual Missions Emphasis Week of Christian churches (Disciples of Christ), tomorrow through the following Sunday. They will speak at five city-wide meetings and at local church services.

The visiting team is composed of Miss Jane Heaton of Indianapolis, who has just returned from The Congo; the Rev. A. Louis Harris, Disciples missionary to The Congo, and the Rev. Lew A. Davis, missionary to India.

They will address the following city-wide meetings: Chi Rho Roundup for junior high school youth at Memorial Boulevard Church, 3000 North Kingshighway, tomorrow at 3 p.m.; Christian women's assembly at Union Avenue Church, 733 Union boulevard, Tuesday, 10:30 a.m.; dinner meeting of business and professional women, Compton Heights Church, 2149 South Grand boulevard, Friday at 6:30 p.m.; meeting for high school students at Dover Place Church, 701 Dover place, next Saturday and Sunday, March 4 and 5, beginning at 3 p.m. both days, and a rally for churchmen at Hamilton Avenue Church, 1260 Hamilton avenue, Sunday, March 5, 3:45 p.m.

Miss Heaton works in the Division of World Mission, United Christian Missionary Society. She is a sister of Charles H. Heaton, organist of Second Presbyterian Church, St. Louis.

The Rev. Mr. Harris, a pastoral evangelist, first went to The Congo in 1946. The Rev. Mr. Davis and his wife have been stationed at Balangir, Orissa, India.

SAYS MOVIE-GOER SHOULD BE HIS OWN CENSOR

The individual Protestant should be his own censor, the director of the National Council of Churches Broadcasting and Film Commission said last week. In his annual report, the Rev. Dr. S. Franklin Mack emphasized that no one person or organization can speak for all Protestants.

"Informed individual conscience supports the good programs and movies and rejects the inferior," he told the annual meeting of the board of managers of the commission.

The Rev. Dr. Mack said that some movie producers and distributors are often reluctant to let their own children see some of their pictures.

"Only the public can control the kind of programs produced, the industry leaders tell us," he stated. "Lack of patronage will kill undesirable films, while a busy box office can put a quality film 'over the top'," he said.

Lively discussion developed during the two-day annual meeting over recommendations by the commission's West Coast office that something be done about "the exploitation of sex and violence" in movies and on TV.

MODERATOR WILL PREACH AT NOON LENTEN SERVICES

The Rev. Dr. Ray E. Phillips, moderator of the General Council of Congregational Christian Churches, will be the speaker at noonday Lenten services at Christ Church Cathedral, Monday through Thursday. The Rev. Dr. Phillips lives in St. Louis and is honorary associate minister of Pilgrim Congregational Church.

The Lenten services are held daily, Monday through Friday, from 12:10 to 12:40 p.m. They are sponsored by the Metropolitan Church Federation.

The speaker Friday will be the Rev. Elmo R. Paff, pastor of Immanuel Congregational Church.

The Rev. Dr. Phillips served for 40 years as a mission worker in South Africa under the Congregational board of foreign missions. He founded and directed a school of social work at Johannesburg, which trains workers for social welfare work among non-Europeans in South Africa. One of his mission roles was that of "mayor" of Moroka Emergency Camp, a shanty community of 75,000 non-whites on the outskirts of Johannesburg. His official title was chairman of the town council.

He is the author of three books on racial problems in South Africa.

CATHOLIC MEN TO MEET

The south central district of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Men will hold its quarterly meeting at St. Elizabeth's Church, Crestwood, Monday at 8 p.m. New officers will be elected. The meeting will be attended by representatives of the 21 parishes in the south central district.

Venice Lincoln Eliminates Triad From Illinois Basket Meet

Victors 'Qualify To Play Madison

By Bob Posen

Triad's Knights, mighty among the midgets, won't get the chance to slay any giants this high school basketball season.

Lincoln of Venice settled that last night, winning a district tournament championship for the fifth straight year by taking the final at Triad, 80-74. The winner thus qualified for a formidable task, meeting powerful Madison in the opening round of next week's Illinois regional tournament at Granite City.

Madison warmed up for the regional by beating a good Belleville team, 78-67, as Ed Walker scored 32 points, while Collinsville whipped Lincoln of East St. Louis, 81-50. Two of the state's top-ranking teams conquered other Southwestern Conference teams entered in the Collinsville regional. Centralia topped Wood River, 66-57, and Pinckneyville nudged Alton, 76-74.

For Triad, winner of its first 22 games this season before bowing to Roxana a week ago, last night's defeat was a bitter one. Coach Art Pahl said the Knights played one of their poorest games as they finished with a 23-2 record.

Did Not Play Best Game.

And, Lincoln Coach Stanley Lynch did not think his own team had played exceptionally well in victory. He believed it had performed better in a 56-48 loss to Sumner of St. Louis.

Even in a first quarter in which they trailed 23-16, the Rams controlled the backboards, and they pulled even with Triad, 32-32, when the Knights scored just nine points in the second quarter.

Triad was able to score freely again after that, but couldn't hold down the hot-shooting Rams, who broke a 37-all tie in the third quarter and went ahead to stay. Their lead reached nine points a couple of times. Triad's last bid put the Knights as close as 75-70 before free throws pulled Lincoln out of danger.

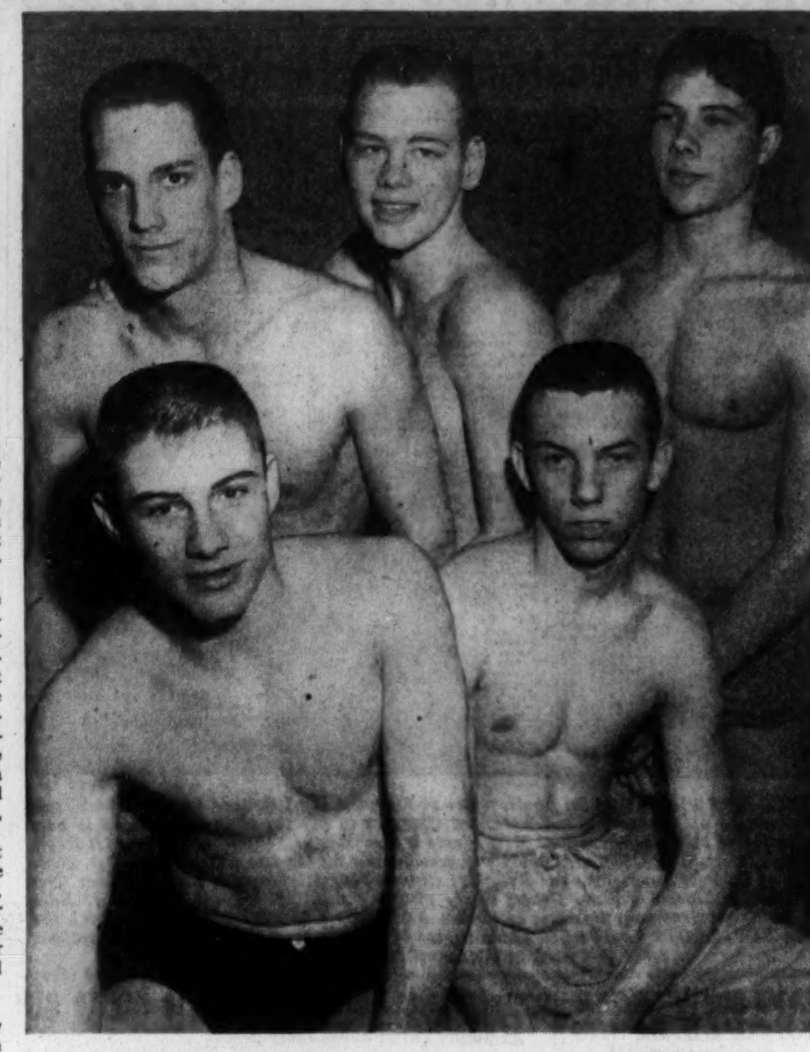

Winners Use Five Players.

Lincoln clamped down on Triad by putting pressure on guards, especially playmaker Mike McFarland. The Rams managed this, surprisingly, while cutting down their fouling, and their five starters went all the way without help.

Triad's Pahl saw the efforts against McFarland as a key, also. "He didn't get enough help from other players when Lincoln put the pressure on him," the coach said. McFarland, with 18 points, and 6-foot-5 junior Dennis Neumann, with 36, got many of their points on outside shooting, although Neumann included 10 on free throws. Triad hit 20 of 23 free throws.

Lincoln teams have not passed the first round in the four tourneys they reached, but Lynch has hopes that his Rams (now 11-7) will meet Madison with the kind of balanced effort they showed against Triad. Tom Hall scored 24, outcourt shooter Charles Hatter 18, Earl Crawford 16 and Robert Chavis 13.

They led Lincoln to a 49 per cent field shooting average (31 for 63) and out-rebounded Triad although having no one near Neumann's height. Triad hit 27 of 50 for 54 per cent.

Standouts in State High Swim Meet

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

These five swimmers established six of the eight records set in the qualifying competition of the state title meet in the University City pool. They are from the left: front row, PAUL BUCHA of Ladue, who set two marks; STEVE GILL, Webster, one. Back row, CHARLES BERKLEY, Ladue, two; DON SCHUCHMANN, Bayless, one, and BREANDON ISOM, Bayless, who had the best time in the butterfly event. Finals in the meet will be held tonight.

Eight Marks Set in State Swim Meet

Eight records were established in the qualifying competition of the state high school swimming championships at University City High School, yesterday.

Ladue paced the qualifiers, putting 10 men in tonight's finals, starting at 8 o'clock, followed by Webster Groves and Clayton, each with eight.

Reinholdt Is Star In Meramec Victory

Gunther Reinholdt's three goals paced the Meramec Sports Club to a 6-0 victory over the Feys in a Khoury League soccer tripleheader at Fairground Park last night. The victory gave Meramec the South League title. Joe Hoffmann, two, and Fredel Geisser, one, counted the other Meramec goals.

Peoria Dog Makes Strong Bid in Trial

UNION SPRINGS, Ala., Feb. 25 (AP)—Some of the nation's top bird dogs may spend most of today in their pens with more rain in prospect for the National Shooting Dog championship.

Downpours halted the twelfth annual competition in the early afternoon yesterday, but not before the judges saw some impressive performances in the six braces completed.

Just Rite Roz, the 1958 prize-winning pointer, made a strong bid to take home another title for her owner, R. R. Waugh of Peoria, Ill.

Roz, working expertly under handler Jimmy Hinton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., scored one clean find and ran the best ground race of the day.

Another standout showing was turned in by Brandywine Rebel, son of Storm Harrigan, the 1960 champion which died of pneumonia last year.

The pointer, owned by Mrs. Donald P. Ross of Wilmington, Del., had four good and looked stylish throughout the 45-minute run.

Big Rally Rescues Waterloo

By Bob Ruhl

Driving down Illinois Route 3 south of East St. Louis, the motorist passes a sign reading, "Meet Our Waterloo." Well, Lebanon's basketball team met the Waterloo quintet last night and the result marked one of the most stirring tournament finishes in the state's colorful prep history.

Behind by 18 points after three periods and badly outplayed by visiting Lebanon, Waterloo put on a furious fourth-quarter rally and nipped the Greyhounds, 68-67, in the final of the Bulldogs' own state district meet. Waterloo tallied an amazing 32 points in the final period, 5-10 Marvin Lich making 20.

Bob Niebrugge's basket with 1:15 left brought Waterloo within a point, 67-66, and 5-7 Rich Henke flipped in the winning basket seven seconds later on a layup. Lebanon stalled out the last 25 seconds, waiting for one shot, but Ron Burns missed a last-second do-or-die attempt when his layup rolled across the back of the rim and fell off.

Coach Willard Sims's Bulldogs, now 23-2 for the season, won their first district title since 1952 and will meet Cahokia-Conference rival Mascoutah on Tuesday in the East St. Louis regional.

In other district finals, Breese defeated Odin, 72-57, in the Patoka meet and joins the regional field at Centralia. Marissa beat Coulterville, 62-48, at New Athens and goes to DuQuoin. Mt. Olive, with Dick Stierwalt scoring 30, downed Worden, 50-40, on the loser's court and enters the regional at Staunton.

The defeat was a crushing blow for Lebanon, which had completely befuddled Waterloo for three quarters with an aggressive zone defense and a down-court press. Lebanon's tactics tied up Waterloo's two 6-5 scoring stars, Niebrugge and Wally Hoffmann, who totaled 12 points between them. Lich and Henke had to do the scoring job outcourt. Lich finished with 32 and Henke with 19.

Sims, who took a while to regain his composure, said: "We have been behind in other games and always came through, but I didn't expect this. It's the first time I've ever seen anything like it."

Harris Teachers Finish Tonight

Harris Teachers College, with a 17-5 basketball record that represents the school's best season, will come to the end of its schedule tonight at O'Fallon Tech High gym when it plays National College of Kansas City at 8 o'clock.

'Win at Wichita' Bills' Battle Cry Tonight

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 25—St. Louis University's basketball team, with a slim hold on third place in the Missouri Valley Conference race, will try to keep that position when it plays Wichita University tonight at 8 o'clock.

The game may decide which team will receive a bid to the National Invitational Tournament in New York, although Drake University also continues to figure in that picture.

St. Louis and Wichita have 16-7 season records. The Billikens have a 5-4 league mark, and have a tough road schedule remaining, playing at Drake next Thursday and Bradley next Saturday.

Wichita, with a 5-5 league record, has only North Texas State (0-9) left as a league foe after this game with the Billikens. A victory now probably would give Wichita the inside track to the N.I.T., even over Drake. The Drake team has an 18-6 over-all record but Wichita has played a stronger schedule.

Glen Mankowski, who sat out St. Louis's 72-68 victory at Tulsa Thursday night to avoid risk of further injury to a bruised eye, is expected to return to action for the Billikens.

St. Louis was defeated by Wichita in their first meeting this season, 70 to 61. Wichita was in top form in that game, running a fast break against the Billikens, who will be trying to stop that kind of offense tonight.

Coach Ralph Miller's Shockers lost their chance to figure in the Missouri Valley title race when they dropped their last three games — to Cincinnati, Drake and Bradley.

Bradley passed a major test Thursday night when it scraped past Wichita, 57-56. The Braves thus will carry an 8-2 league mark in a 20-4 season record when they play at Tulsa tonight.

Duchesne, Wellston In Final

Duchesne and Wellston meet tonight at Valley Park to determine the St. Louis area's representative in the Class M state high school basketball tournament.

Duchesne of St. Charles last night defeated Kinloch, 65-57, and Wellston nipped John Burroughs, 70-69, when Tony Busalacchi dropped in two free throws with 23 seconds remaining in an overtime period of the regional tournament semifinals.

In other Class M semifinals Owensville beat Hermann, 58-54, and Dixon topped Pacific, 77-75, at Owensville, while Desloge rallied to stop Piedmont, 54-50, and St. Joseph of Farmington downed Leadwood, 50-41, at Flat River. In Class S, Bourbon upset first-seeded Elsberry, 70-68, and Lincoln of Jefferson City edged St. George of Hermann, 54-52, at Hermann.

Two local conference races ended in ties for first place. Berkeley and Pattonville share the North County League title after Berkeley defeated Jennings, 68-55, and Pattonville beat Parkway, 69-63. Mercy and DuBourg ended in a tie for the Catholic Athletic Conference crown.

Mercy beat McBride, 59-49, and DuBourg rolled over Laboure, 87-49, as Rich Naes set a DuBourg scoring record with 38 points. The Cavaliers have won or shared the title for four straight years, dividing it with Mercy last season also. DeAndreis edged St. Mary's, 55-53, on Don Luebbers's rebound shot with four seconds left.

Maplewood took second place in the Big Ten by surprising Webster Groves, 37-34.

Unbeaten Washington, Mo., rolled over Festus, recent winner over powerful Crystal City, 74-52.

Burroughs rallied in the fourth quarter to tie Wellston on Bob Flynn's 20-foot shot at the closing buzzer. The Bombers took a 69-68 lead in the overtime on Tom Goldman's free throw. He missed a second free throw, then Busalacchi's tosses won for Wellston.

Hawks Test New Lineup, Beat Knicks, 122-119

LaCour, Green Shifted; Boston Here Tonight

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—The St. Louis Hawks are busy preparing for the play-offs and Coach Paul Seymour is making a virtue out of necessity. Injuries to Cliff Hagan and Woody Sauldsberry have left the front court short-handed, and so experimentation is in full swing. It may turn out to be valuable experience in the battle for the championship next month.

Tonight the Hawks take on Boston in St. Louis's Kiel Auditorium at 8:30. It will be another one of those final-round previews or replays, depending on whether you look ahead or back. Last night here, before 14,139 at Madison Square Garden, they earned a hard-fought, 122-119 victory over the last-place Knicks. And the line-up experiments were more interesting and important than the result.

"I've got to play Si Green up front," explained Seymour before the game, "but it's a good idea anyhow. Actually, Si is probably even more effective offensively as a corner man than as a back court man, despite his size. The problems are defensive, and in what we may be giving up in rebounding.

"But when we play Boston, for instance, there's Frank Ramsey playing the corner a lot of the time, and he's certainly about Si's size. (Hey, that sounds funny, doesn't it? Si's size?) Anyhow, there are some other match-ups that are favorable that way.

"This is a good time to find out such things. For instance, last night in Syracuse, where we got whipped, I finally convinced myself that Fred LaCour just isn't big enough to play full time up front against fellows the size of Dave Gambee or Barney Cable. I'd been a little uncertain in my own mind about him, but now I'm set on the fact that he should be back court all the way."

LaCour played back court last night, 36 minutes of it, and did very well, with 15 points, a couple of assists and seven rebounds. He made five baskets in 11 tries and five-for-five from the foul line, and his mates seemed to make an effort to set him up for shots.

Green did just as well up front. He made seven of his nine shots and wound up with 17 points, exactly the total Willie Naulls got against him.

But the real star was Lennie Wilkens, who scored 29 points and played a spectacular floor game in driving, feeding and ball-swiping on defense. He was too fast for the Knicks and was the reason that the Hawks won.

Officials of the Hawks announced that 1000 of the $2.25 tickets for tonight's game would be on sale all day and that at 7 p.m., 750 general admission seat tickets would go on sale.

This will be the second time the Cardinal club has played Green Bay in a benefit game here. The teams attracted a record attendance for the benefit series in 1956 when 31,025 saw the Packers beat the Cardinals, then of Chicago, 29-21, at Busch Stadium.

MRS. HUNTINGTON HARTFORD II

MRS. HARTFORD GETS DIVORCE, $2,385,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Steele Hartford yesterday won an uncontested divorce and a $2,385,000 settlement from Huntington Hartford II, A. & P. chain store heir.

She receives an additional $60,000 a year, presumably until she remarries, plus custody of the couple's two children—Cathy, 11 years old, and Jackie, 7.

The divorce proceedings before State Supreme Court Justice Charles A. Loreto was secret. However, adultery is the only ground for divorce in New York.

In her original suit, Mrs. Hartford reportedly accused Hartford of misconduct with several unidentified women and asked for a record $25,000,000 settlement. She estimated his wealth at $50,000,000.

Miss Steele was a 19-year-old Hollywood cigarette girl when she married Hartford, then 36, twelve years ago. They became estranged last summer.

Asked as she left the courtroom if she were satisfied with the settlement terms, Mrs. Hartford said: "I did not marry him for his money, and I am not divorcing him for his money."

It was understood that under terms of the settlement, Mrs. Hartford will receive $385,000 outright. A $1,500,000 trust fund was set up for the children, to be divided among them at various stages from the ages of 21 to 35. Another $500,000 trust fund will be used for support of the children until they become 21.

1962 CARS TO COME EQUIPPED WITH SAFETY BELT GEAR

© New York Times News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—All major American automobile makers will install seat belt attachments as standard equipment on 1962 models. The announcements were made yesterday by Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, American Motors and Studebaker Packard.

Action by the industry came at the close of a two-day visit to Detroit by a group of New York state officials, most of them members of the Legislature.

In the past, installation of safety belts in the front seats had cost between $20 and $40—mostly for the labor costs in drilling through the floor pan and attaching the hardware. On the new models the only out-of-pocket cost to the owner will be for the two-inch wide webbed belt.

PARTNERS IN SEED FIRM INDICTED ON TAX CHARGES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 25—Frank and John F. Diekemper, partners in a Belleville seed company, were indicted yesterday by a United States district court grand jury here on charges of income tax evasion.

Both men were accused of evading taxes for the years 1954 through 1957. The indictment said that Frank Diekemper evaded payment of $14,644 in taxes by reporting an income of $15,290 for the four years when his income actually was $60,689.

The indictment said his nephew, John Diekemper, reported an income of $12,275 for the four years, but his actual income was $43,612 and that he had evaded $9723 in federal income taxes.

$725,000,000 IN FOOD AID REQUESTED BY PAKISTAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (UPI)—Pakistan has asked the United States for a $725,000,000, four-year "food for peace" aid plan. Pakistan's finance minister, Mohammad Shoaib, discussed the request yesterday with George W. Ball, under secretary of state for economic affairs, and other officials.

Under the proposal, all the rupees Pakistan would pay this country for the food would be given back to Pakistan in economic aid grants and to cover the United States contribution to the Indus river irrigation project.

The United States food-to-India program, which started last summer, calls for delivery of $1,276,000,000 worth of surplus agricultural products over a four-year period. In per capita terms, Pakistan is asking for twice as much as India.

EARL R. BRITT DIES; PRINTING FIRM HEAD

Earl Rolland Britt, chairman of the board of directors of the Britt Printing & Publishing Co., died today at DePaul Hospital of a kidney ailment. He was 89 years old.

Mr. Britt entered the printing business in St. Louis in 1882, when he was 11 years old. He joined the Post-Dispatch as a printer's apprentice in 1885. In 1893 he purchased the St. Charles Daily and Weekly Banner from George D. Dyer, who later published the old St. Louis Mirror. Mr. Britt combined the Banner and its rival, the news, in 1897, to form the St. Charles Banner-News.

After Mr. Britt sold the Banner-News in 1903, he established the publishing company in St. Louis.

In 1912 he was elected president of the Associated Printers and Lithographers, a national trade association. He was elected to the board of directors of the Printing Industries of America in 1919 and was made president of this organization in 1934.

The Associated Printers and Lithographers of St. Louis named him "Dean of the St. Louis Printing Industry" in 1947.

Surviving are his wife, Clara, and a son, Raymond R. Britt Jr., of St. Louis. His home was at 341 Westgate avenue, University City.

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 25 (UPI)—South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw said yesterday his nation might join Rhodesia and Portugal's African colonies in an effort to maintain white civilization in Africa.

Louw told Parliament that South Africans admired the stand taken by Rhodesian Premier Sir Roy Welensky against extending suffrage to more Northern Rhodesian Africans.

He cited "unfriendly acts" by Ghana, Ethiopia, Tanganyika, Nigeria, and the Belgians in The Congo.

Soviet government is "prepared, together with other states friendly toward the (Stanleyville) Republic of The Congo, to render help to the Congolese people and their legitimate government."

Appealed to State.

Krushchev said the Gizenga government has "appealed to our state for help to restore peace and order."

"It is said that more decisive aid to the patriotic forces of the Congolese people and the legitimate government of The Congo will allegedly result in The Congo becoming a scene of the 'cold war' between rival groupings of states," he said.

"To my mind it is absolutely wrong to present the question in this way, and I am sure such ideas are deliberately propagated by the colonialists in order to cause disunity among states willing to render effective aid to the Congolese people," Khrushchev said.

He called Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold the "chief assassin" of Lumumba, thus renewing his efforts to discredit the U.N. official.

"(The secretary general) has pursued . . . a policy of base treachery in regard to the interests of the Congolese people," he said.

"To put it bluntly, it was in essence Hammarskjold who murdered Lumumba. Whoever held the knife or revolver is after all not the sole murderer. The chief assassin is the one who handed him the weapon.

Says He Has No Right to Post.

"Such an individual has no right to hold a leading post in the United Nations. We cannot reconcile ourselves to the fact . . . that the secretary general has sullied himself by a foul murder."

Khrushchev charged that the U.N. operation in The Congo revived "a well-known principle . . . coined by Theodore Roosevelt, who spoke of talking softly but with a big stick in his hand."

He charged that Cuba and Panama had fallen victim in the past to United States "big stick" policies.

"It is without purpose that some statesmen in the West even now are developing the theme of the big stick in their public pronouncements," he said. "The big stick means . . . subjugation of weaker nations by force of arms.

"Everybody knows the Soviet Union also has a big stick, but it resolutely opposes the policy of threats and stick brandishing. It relies on its policy of reason."

POLICE SEEK 11 WHO FLED FROM JAIL IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25 (UPI)—Sheriff's deputies today sought 11 of 12 prisoners—one considered dangerous—who made an escape from county jail.

The jail is the one where Dr. R. Bernard Finch is being held for retrial in the killing of his wife, but Finch was not one of those who fled.

One of the fugitives, Ronald Profeta, of Ontario, Calif., an unemployed machinist accused of stealing a piece of steak, turned himself in last night a few hours after the break. Profeta asserted he thought he had been bailed out by his wife, Janet, but one officer called his story nonsense. Officers identified the most dangerous of the fugitives as Joe Morgan, a murderer from Folsom prison who had been brought to Los Angeles yesterday to testify in the trial of two men accused of the robbery of a discount store.

FLOODS, TORNADOES STRIKE THE SOUTH

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 25 (AP) — Floods of major proportions swept central Alabama and Mississippi today and continued rains gave indications that the situation will get worse.

High waters displaced thousands of persons in four southern states, and tornadoes and high winds caused more damage in at least three Southern states.

The Red Cross in Washington said 2800 families have been affected by flooding in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. National Guard and civil defense evacuations will send the figure much higher.

Six thousand persons have been displaced at Hattiesburg, Miss., by flood waters of the Leaf river. A third of that city is under water, which in places is 12 feet deep.

Tornadoes and high winds uprooted trees and damaged buildings in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina. No serious injuries were reported.

The Weather Bureau at Montgomery, Ala., said the Tallapoosa river, in central Alabama, should rise rapidly today. All gates at one dam on the Tallapoosa were open and the water level rose to within six inches of capacity at Martin dam. Some of its flood gates were expected to be opened shortly.

suspects, including $24 in the shopping bag, in the car.

Koester admitted the holdup, police reported. Koester and Daggett were identified by witnesses as the robbers, and Hooper as driver of the car. The latter two denied taking part in the holdup.

John W. Jones is in serious condition at Homer G. Phillips Hospital with a bullet wound which he told police was inflicted by a robber last night.

Jones, who lives in the 5900 block of Etzel avenue, said he was walking in the 3700 block of Cook avenue when two men approached him from behind and demanded his money. Jones said he started running and heard three shots. The third shot struck him in the back. The men fled Jones said.

Mrs. John L. Leuther was held up yesterday in her husband's market, 3868 Shenandoah avenue, by two youths who forced her to place $330 in a bag and fled in a stolen automobile with a third youth. One robber was armed with a pistol. The car was found abandoned a short time later in the 3600 block of Botanical avenue.

Nathan Sirota, operator of a market at 2500 Clara avenue, and Mrs. Marie Rebori, a checker, were forced to lie on the floor by two men who stole $150 from the cash register last night. One robber displayed a revolver. Several customers in the store were not molested. The robbers fled in an automobile with a third man.

William Williford, operator of a market at 1544 Hogan street, threw a soft drink bottle at a robber armed with a rifle last night and then ran out a side door to call police. The bottle missed the mark. The robber stole an undetermined sum of money and fled before police arrived.

A 20-year-old youth, who knocked Mrs. Edna Bealmer down in the corridor of her apartment house at 5641 Clemens avenue and grabbed her purse last night was captured by two other tenants. The youth denied the attack, though he was caught with the purse. The capture was by Charles O'Hara and Milton Helweg.

Employes of two stores in the 4100 block of Delmar boulevard were held up and robbed last night. Miss Betty Toney, clerk in a confectionery at 4122 Delmar, was robbed of $21 by two men armed with pistols. Collins Travis, clerk in a liquor store at 4162 Delmar, was held up by two masked men, one armed with a revolver. The robbers fled with $26 and two bottles of whiskey.

RELIGION'S RIGIDITY CITED FOR REJECTION BY CHILDREN

The stagnation and rigidity in organized religion leads a child to reject it, Dr. Milton Senn, director of the Yale Child Study Center, said last night at First Unitarian Church, 5015 Waterman boulevard.

He pointed out that there was a marked increase in juvenile delinquency in recent years among children who attended church school regularly. Apparently church and Sunday School attendance has had no marked effect on those with delinquent tendencies, he added.

Children need parents or capable substitutes in order to create a sense of conscience, he said. The role of responsible teachers and parents is to develop their own sense of responsibility within the children, he asserted.

KENNEDY PRESS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—President Kennedy will hold a press conference Wednesday, the White House announced yesterday. Pierre Salinger, press secretary, said there had been no decision as to whether the session will be at 9 a.m. (St. Louis time) or 3 p.m.

Salinger said also he does not know whether there will be live radio and television coverage of the conference.

ORBIT BY 'RADIO BRAIN' SATELLITE HELD IMPROBABLE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Government scientists reported today it is "highly improbable" tha orbit was achieved by the "radio brain" satellite launched last night from this test centter.

Tracking stations had scanned the skies on the slim chance that the 75-pound sphere whirled into orbit despite a malfunction in the upper stages of hte four-stage Juno II booster rocket.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today that "all available evidence shows that it is highly improbable that the ionosphere-beacon satellite achieved any orbit. . . . There was a malfunction shortly after booster separation. Because of a loss of radio transmission from the satellite, the sequence of events that followed could not be determined immediately. Since then, no tracking station has acquired data that would indicate an orbit."

The satellite was to have studied the effects of the ionosphere on long range radio and television communications.

Embezzler

said it totaled more than $500,000. He said the exact amount had not been determined. Some bank sources placed it as high as $700,000.

Morgan said there was no indication that any stockholders or depositors would suffer any loss.

"The fidelity bond ($1,000,000) is large enough to cover the shortage," he said.

It was the second large bank embezzlement disclosed in Iowa in two months. In the meantime there had been a third, smaller one.

The first was in Sheldon, in northwest Iowa, where an embezzlement of more than $2,000,000 closed the Sheldon National Bank Jan. 16. The assistant cashier, Mrs. Burnice Geiger, daughter of the president, admitted taking the money. She was sentenced to 15 years in prison.

The third case occurred Jan. 30 at Malvern, in southwest Iowa. John E. Willard, 40, vice president and cashier of the Malvern Trust & Savings Bank, committed suicide, authorities said, after a $55,000 shortage was discovered.

Mrs. Lilliam Osborn, who said she had known Job ever since he came to Knoxville from Maryville, Mo., said, "Now I know how the people of Sheldon felt. He was a good guy. He was so perfect, such a friendly man. Anything good for the community, Job was for."

"He was so popular in town and had so many friends that I guess he just couldn't stand it," said a farmer—patron of the bank.

Morgan said Job's use of forged notes to represent assets that Community National did not own, eventually was the cause of his undoing. He could not make all the signatures look valid.

Last Tuesday an examiner working on the bank's books happened on a batch of notes on which the signatures looked alike. Job had not disposed of them, Morgan said.

There were 50 such notes ranging in amount from $8000 to $20,000.

"In his confession he admitted he forged the signatures on these 50 notes," Morgan said.

Job said in his confession that he knew the examiners had found out about him. When confronted with the evidence he went to a vacant house yesterday morning and hanged himself.

Morgan said some of the missing funds had been taken prior to 1960, perhaps over a period of three or four years.

"The bulk of the notes we found were dated 1960 and 1961 so any previous forgeries or shortages were 'washed out' by the forged notes of the last two years," Morgan said.

Details of what Job had done with the missing money have not been uncovered.

"Some of it went for donations around town," Morgan said. "There were some bad investments, bad loans and miscellaneous items. We don't know how he got started, but it was a pyramiding sort of thing.

"He accomplished the embezzlement by himself. He made a full explanation in the note written to me."

Morgan said it would take until the middle of next week to wrap up the investigation.

Community National Bank had total deposits of $7,769,848 as of last Dec. 31. It had $450,000 in capital and surplus. The deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

WRECKAGE OF B-47 SIGHTED; NO SIGN OF FOUR IN CREW

DULUTH, Minn., Feb. 25 (AP)—Wreckage of a B-47 jet bomber was sighted from the air in the Ironwood (Mich.) area today, the Air Force said in Duluth. There was no immediate information whether the crew of four had survived. No men were seen near the plane.

The B-47 was from the Fortieth Bomber Wing at Forbes Air Force Base, Topeka, Kan.

The plane was said to have crashed in flames last night in snow-covered timber country in the area between Hurley, Wis., and Ironwood after the commander ordered his men to bail out.

Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Warmer weather is expected in the St. Louis area tomorrow, but temperatures should drop again Monday, the Weather Bureau said. A high tomorrow of 45 to 50 was predicted.

Snow covered an area from the western Great Lakes region through the middle Mississippi and western Ohio valleys to western Mississippi.

Heavy rain was reported from Alabama and Georgia into Tennessee and the Carolinas. Showers were forecast for tomorrow in the middle and south Atlantic states and Gulf coast with rain mixed with snow in the north Atlantic coastal region, as indicated by the map.

Snow is expected in the Great Lakes region, upper Mississippi valley, northwest and central mountain region and the plateau states. Scattered showers were predicted for the northwest Pacific coast.

Diplomatic Firefighters

Going to the aid of Washington firemen, French Ambassador and Mrs. Herve Alphand grimly go about task of removing clothing and personal effects from their burning embassy last night. Away at a dinner party when the fire broke out, they rushed home to save treasured belongings while firemen fought flames in the floors above them. Fire broke out in an elevator shaft and caused considerable damage to upper levels of the building. Smoke and water damage also was heavy.

Source of British Pride

Head-on view is of new British fighter aircraft, the Lightning, which was hailed as the best of its type after being shown publicly Wednesday for the first time. Royal Air Force Marshal Sir Hector McGregor says the Lightning can catch any bomber and outfly any fighter in service anywhere in the world. Its speed is rated at 1500 miles an hour at altitudes up to 60,000 feet. Armament includes two Firestreak air-to-air missiles.

Monkeyshines

Making the best of a tethered existence, lar gibbon named Commodore whirls through the air with the greatest of ease while being entertained by attendant Jill Impey at Whipsnade Zoo in England. A recent gift to the zoo, the gibbon promptly escaped and has been tied down by a long leash since recapture.

Why Popcorn Explodes

By Ramon Coffman

MANY GOOD QUESTIONS have been reaching me from school classes. As time goes on, I shall answer as many as space permits.

Sometimes the same question appears in a number of letters. Here is a question asked by several groups:

"Why does popcorn pop?"

Kernels of popcorn have harder and closer coverings than those of other kinds of corn. For this reason, the moisture is kept inside each kernel.

When the time comes for popping, the small, hard kernels are placed in a pan or other container, and heat is applied. Steam is produced inside the kernels and the hard coatings keep the steam from escaping. When steam pressure becomes too strong for the coating to resist, the kernel bursts, or "explodes," and "turns inside out."

Fluffy, well-popped popcorn provides us with a taste treat from time to time. It seems less popular now than during the first quarter of the present century, when there were "popcorn wagons" at many street corners. Just the same, millions of kernels are popped every day of the year. People in many homes pop their own corn.

As a safety remark, I suggest that you chew popcorn with care. In some batches (especially those popped at home) there are a few hard kernels that have failed to pop. If chewed too hard, such a kernel might damage a tooth.

Now and then (but rather rarely) a housewife finds that a potato "explodes" while it is being baked. This happens when the potato has a strong, close skin that keeps the inside steam from escaping in a gentle way.

For GENERAL INTEREST section of your scrapbook.
